WE NOMINATE

Milton Lyon, a tireless "commuter in reverse" and for the past 12 years a moulder of Princeton's modern-day "theatrical tradition." This week for the sixth time in seven years, as teachers, housewives, representatives of a dazzling array of occupations and professions, and students from a half-dozen institutions pool their talents and energies in "Finian's Rainbow," Lyon is the driving-force of the PJ&B Spring Musical – a truly regional production drawing its cast and support from the entire Princeton Area and deriving its name from the bouncy, century-old Pennsylvania Railroad spur called "Princeton Junction and Back."

It was in 1961, when in his second of four seasons as executive producer of McCarter Theatre, that Lyon came forward with the concept of drawing together into an annual musical extravaganza the diverse elements constituting the Princeton Community. The result was the fabulously successful "Guys and Dolls," a complicated show with a cast ranging from semi-professionals to complete novices. Each Spring since (with the exception of 1965) the 44-year old Lyon at the urgent request of PJ&B has accepted a new challenge, coming down from New York each evening for a period of several weeks and then returning to Manhattan after a three-hour rehearsal and, most often, a gobbled sandwich dinner.

A seasoned observer of the American theatre, who describes himself as an enthusiastic "PJ&B alumnus," notes: "It is difficult for any of us to envision PJ&B without him, although this must inevitably happen. In the meantime we cross our fingers each Spring and hope. Needless to say, this type of 'moonlighting' and the physical strain involved require a special devotion of some sort. While he is paid a fee by McCarter, it can hardly be commensurate with the time and effort he invests in each production, for Lyon has few, if any, peers in welding disparate forces into a company – a performing company of 'amateurs' – in a month or less."

The Pittsburgh-born Lyon, a member of the Class of 1943 at Carnegie Institute of Technology and a graduate alumnus of the University of California (Berkeley), lives, thinks and breathes "the theatre." The director of over 70 musicals for such organizations as the Sacramento Light Opera Association and the Detroit Music Circus, he is currently affiliated with the Actors' Equity Foundation and serves as director of the Foundation's Department to Extend the Professional Theatre, a service agency for the theatre, brought into being to initiate, advise and in general act as consultant, planner and designer for the purpose of developing professional theatre throughout this country and Canada.

Lyon, director of 10 of the last 11 Princeton University Triangle Club shows and in recent years general manager of The Chapel Playhouse, Guilford, Conn., and the Woodstock Playhouse, Woodstock, N. Y., helped shape the development of McCarter Theatre as a Center for the Performing Arts. In the 1960's his imaginative service with Actors' Equity has involved his department with state and municipal arts councils, cultural centers, colleges and universities, programs for secondary schools, shopping center theatres, urban development proposals and the formation of new regional professional theatres.

For becoming the "father figure" of PJ&B and endowing this group with a sense of purpose and continuity and with the conviction that "it must enjoy whatever it undertakes;" for his contributions to the dramatic expansion of the regional theatre movement; for meriting the appreciation and respect of those with whom he works; he is our nominee as

MERIT SCHOLARS: These seniors will go on to college with scholarships won in the National Merit Scholarship Program. AWARDS, ON MERIT

Scholars Named. The shining faces and shining minds of Princeton's teen-agers made news this week as the National Merit Scholarship Corporation announced the winners of its annual scholastic competition.

Fourteen youngsters, 13 from Princeton High School and one from Stuart Country Day, were listed as winners; however due to the peculiarities of National Merit's announcing system, this isn't all, and more will be announced in time to come.

Eight of the winners receive prime time from Merit because their sponsors — that is, the companies paying their scholarships — are large corporations. The others, equally worthy scholastically, do not have sponsors, either because their fathers are not employed by companies that have scholarship programs for personnel children, or because they are not headed for a career in math or science, or because of the ways of chance.

At any rate, here they are.

The Stuart Country Day winner is Lee Flournoy, who lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Flournoy, on R. D. 4.

Lee, who will attend Wellesley, has been a member of Stuart's Student Council since 1963 and has been an active athlete, serving on the games committee of the athletic organization during the past year and on the junior varsity hockey and varsity lacrosse teams.

A Sodality member from 1963-67, she is now president of Stuart's Migrant Worker Social Action Project, a program to aid migrant workers. She was president of her class in 1964, and will be gradauted this June.

Heading for Yale. From Princeton High, John E. Cawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Cawley, 10 Westcott Road, will attend Yale on his scholarship.

Last year, he won the Yale Club of Princeton book prize, and in 1965-66, participated in the Science Honors Program at Columbia University. In 1965, he was part of State Science Day at Fairleigh Dickinson.

At the high school, he has been a member of both orchestra and band, a member of the creative writing club and the freshman soccer team.

James W. Deutsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Deutsch of 77 Leabrook Lane, is already a freshman at Columbia, having been admitted under early admission after his junior year at the high school. He plans to major in physics and will teach at the college level, or do research in physics.

Last summer, he participated in the National Science Foundation summer program in physics at Cornell. The summer before, he was chosen for the United States History Institute at Princeton.

A serious student of the cello, he is a member of the Columbia University Orchestra and was a member of the Princeton University Orchestra from 1964 to 1966. He was also first cellist in the PHS orchestra, and has been active in several chamber music organizations.

Cornell-Round. Ellen L. Leverenz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Humboldt W. Leverenz, 35 Westcott Road, plans to attend Cornell. A member of the Princeton High School Choir since 1964, she has also worked with the school's Repertory Theatre Group and the Creative Writing Club.

Richard J. Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Morgan Jr., 536 Prospect Avenue, will major in chemical engineering at Princeton before starting a career in research.

Last year, he was selected for the New Jersey Chemical Caravan sponsored by the Chemical Industry Council. He has been active in extra-curricular activities, serving as steering chairman last year for PHS on the "Youth Speaks Up" radio program. He is vice-president of the Teen Age Republicans for the current year, and a member of the high school track team this year, and the YMCA swim team from 1963 to the present. He received the Degree of Merit from the National Forensic League in 1964.

Blind Girl a Winner. Susan Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Robinson, 18 Quaker Road, will major in voice at Westminster Choir College.

In spite of the fact that she is blind, Miss Robinson has had an active career in music. In February, she was national regional winner in the Johnson-McCurdy voice contest at Westminster. Last year, she won first prize in the Anna Stokes voice contest.

In 1964, she took first prize in her age group in the open solo contest at the Eisteddfodau in Philadelphia and in the same year, was a semifinalist in the Philadelphia Orchestra Young People's Concert. She was vice-president of the PHS Choir in 1964 also. In '63 and '64, she won first prize in Latin in competition sponsored by the Philadelphia Classical Society.

Selected as "student of the month" by the Princeton Kiwanis, she will be Valedictorian of her graduating class at Princeton High this June.

Robert J. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman F. White Sr., 610 Princeton Road, Plainsboro, will major in math at Harvard so that he can teach at the college level.

A member of the high school's political science club and chess club, he has also been on the debating club, serving as its president this year.

He is president of the Senior High Youth Fellowship at Plainsboro's First Presbyterian Church, is an Explorer Scout, a Boys' Leader Corps member, and a member of P HS's varsity football team in 1965, '66 and '67.

Christopher J. Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wolf, 157 Washington Road, will also major in math. He plans to attend Michigan State, and to train as a computer programmer.

Last year, he was chosen to participate in the National Science Foundation program in computer programming and math, at Stevens Institute of Technology, and he was a member of the high school's computer club in 1965-6.

On its honorary merit list, Princeton High counts six seniors. They are Ray Colcord, Karlana Carper, Frazer Lively, Connie Kreiss, Elliott Frank and Peter Schay.

WHY, IT'S SVETLANA! In Princeton. Svetlana Alliluyeva, Josef Stalin's daughter, spent the day in Princeton Sunday, mostly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Greenbaum, 104 Mercer Street.

Mr. Greenbaum, representing Mrs. Alliluyeva personally and as her lawyer dealing with publishers in regard to the publication of her memoirs was one of the two Princeton residents who guided her journey to the United States. The other was George F. Kennan, former ambassador to Russia, now in Europe.

Mrs. Greenbaum said that Mrs. Alliluyeva came by car from her retreat on Long Island to the Mercer Street home of the Greenbaums. Later, Mrs. Greenbaum said, they dined at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Griggs, 30 Olden Lane. Mrs. Griggs is Mr. Kennan's daughter.

Borough police said they did not know until Monday that Mrs. Alliluyeva was in town.

TEENS? YES In Engineering Building. Details will be worked out after mid-May, but the Borough's Engineering Building will definitely go to Princeton Youth Center, Inc., as the managerial tenant.

PYC representatives met with Borough representatives on Tuesday. PYC presented two pages of specific information on the amount of space they want and the kind of supervision they will provide.

However, PYC does yet have a formal corporate organization. Officers will be elected at an organizational meeting to be held May 15 and the Borough and the new PYC officers will sit down together after that date to make specific plans.

Supervision will come, PYC told the Borough, from a "qualified professional director" with a staff, presumably a volunteer or semi-volunteer staff of Seminary students, or young adults.

The Center had been asked to confer with neighbors on Green Street to see how they felt about a teen center so close at hand. Neighbors were receptive, but told PYC they were afraid of loiterers outside the building.

PYC agreed this could be a problem, and said they would police the property themselves, withdrawing the membership privileges of any teen-agers who misbehaved.

The group will confer with the Princeton Junior Museum to see whether space can be agreed upon. Space for the Princeton Homemakers will also be arranged, Borough spokesmen said.

"The Youth Committee's plans were not quite as specific as we had hoped," commented Mayor Henry S. Patterson, "but I think it did a good job."

SEVEN BECOME CITIZENS In Trenton Ceremony. Six residents of the Princeton area became citizens of the United States Tuesday when they took the oath of allegiance before Judge Arthur S. Lane in U.S. District Court, Trenton.

They are the Rev. Tiat Han Tan and his wife, Juanita, 100 Stockton Street, both from Indonesia; Taesoon Henthorn, Hibben Apartments, Faculty Road, from Korea; Muriel Meray-Horvath, 47 Leabrook Lane, Switzerland; Thomas Millar, Route 206, Belle Mead, Great Britain; and Jeremiah A. Dowling, 4 Harrison Lane, Princeton Junction, Ireland.

HUGHES REPLIES

Coocerning By-Pass. "We've heard this story before," commented Township Committeeman John Wallace after Administrator Joseph R. Nini read to Committee on Monday night a letter from Governor Richard Hughes on the 92-A bypass.

The governor wrote in reply to action taken by Committee last month endorsing the route laid out by the Somerset County planner.

"My administration is well aware of the importance of 92 as a relief route for the Princeton area," the governor wrote, adding that nothing more can be done until the route is legislated as part of the state highway system."

He said he hoped the legislators will "find it possible in the near future to move for passage of legislation in accordance with normal procedures," and he said the staff of State Highway Commissioner David J. Goldberg is studying 92-A and will schedule a conference with municipalities involved "as soon as the anaiysis is completed."

Keep Pushing. Committeeman William Wilson remarked that Governor Hughes had backed the by-pass when he ran for governor. "I wish they'd love us in May as they do in October," Mr. Wilson said tartly.

"We've got to keep pushing," Mr. Wallace added. He suggested, and Committee agreed, that Governor Hughes' letter should be forwarded to the proper Assemblymen, and to the Somerset planner.

Sewers to be Extended. Sewers, out of the Township picture for some time, showed up again Monday night. The Board of Health has recommended two sewer extensions, one along Route 206 north of Ewing and the second on Mercer Road near the Lawrence Township boundary line.

The 206 extension was requested in March by seven property owners in the area, and the Board of Health told Committee there is evidence of "malfunction" and that no individual solutions are possible on a permanent basis because of the geology of the area.

Township Engineer Frank Quinby brought in an estimate of $26,000, to be assessed against 13 lots. The enabling ordinance will be introduced later in the spring.

On Mercer Road, the Board of Health counts contaminated wells on 11 lots. Thirteen properties are affected by the extension of the line. Only two of the 13 property owners have been interviewed, and Committee will ask the rest and then report.

Mayor Carl C. Schafer said that municipalities involved in the proposed sub-regional sewer system will meet next Wednesday to talk about financing the project.

Hospital Gets OK. "Maybe the hosptial's planning is too small," said William Cherry, 24 Dempsey Avenue, in a startling switch on the usual citizen comment concerning Princeton Hospital.

Mr. Cherry made his observation after Committee unanimously approved (Mayor Schafer abstaining: he's a trustee) the zoning board's recommendation of a use variance for the Medical Arts Building addition.

Mr. Cherry suggested that Committee take a long-range, 20-year look at the hospital: should it be regional? should it be lopped off and a second hospital be built nearby but elsewhere?

John Kauffman, administrator of the hospital, who hadn't brought his slide-show to this particular meeting (he's already shown it four times), told Committee that a hospital can't plan any farther ahead than 10 years because medical break-throughs can change the entire pattern of patient care.

He gave a reprise of his slide presentation, minus the slides, pointing out that the hospital already has a Borough variance to make the new two and one-half story "J" building a full 10 stories with a maximum of 375 beds.

He reminded Committee that the area served by the hospital hasn't changed in size since 1930. It's the population that has grown.

Borough and Township Planning Boards worked together to lay out suggestions for the hospital's internal circulation, parking and so on, and Mr. Wallace said he thought this cooperation was significant indeed.

The hospital has had to appear before six bodies: two Planning Boards, two Zoning Boards, Township Committee and — to come — Borough Council.

Getting the school-budget year into step with the municipal year has taken some intricate fiscal footwork, but Administrator Nini reported Monday night that all is well: the Township's new certified tax rate is $5.47, instead of the estimated $5.60, and the municipality has saved $38,497.

Committeeman Wilson commended Mr. Nini and the new deputy clerk, Frank N. Van Gelder, for their fiscal expertise.

GAS PUMPS LEVELED

In Front of Watts Store. Both gasoline pumps in front of Mary Watts' Store on Route 206 near Cherry Valley Road were flattened late Monday morning by a State Highway Department dump truck. No one was injured in the spectacular accident.

Sgt. Michael Lisi charged the driver of the truck, Robert G. Hooper, 46, of Trenton, with failing to keep right. According to the police report, Mr. Hooper had apparently drifted over the center line and to avoid oncoming traffic he veered sharply to the right. The truck left the roadway and struck the pumps, ripping them open and setting them on fire. A Township patrolman reported the driver said if he had not hit the pumps he would have crashed into the store.

First on the scene were two employees of the Nassau Oil Company across the highway. "We saw the smoke and knew something had happended," one of them said. "We grabbed a powder extinguisher from the plant and ran over. The fire was easy to knock out. After all, this is our business."

Afraid of Explosion. "People were keeping back, afraid there would be an explosion," the Nassau Oil employee continued. "Actually, there was no possibility of that — not the way pumps are put in. We had all the flames out by the time the firemen arrived.

"But you have to give the police and the fire company a lot of credit," he added. "They got there in a hurry!" The pair from Nassau Oil preferred not to give their names.

As soon as police arrived, they blocked off the area from traffic to guard against the chance of any explosion. "We could see smoke coming down over the rise," said one patrolman.

Credit the owner — Mary Watts — with quick thinking, too. Chief James Campbell said that she immediately flicked off the power switch to the electrical motors in the gas pumps.

Firemen hosed down the charred and twisted pumps to guard against any flareups.

Bus vs. Car. A small sports car convertible had its right side demolished when it was struck broadside by a bus early Saturday morning at Jefferson and Valley Road.

Virginia E. Lennon, 26, 265 Ewing Street, received cuts and abrasions of her right side and head. Police described the damage to her small car as total.

Sgt. Anthony Nini charged the driver of the bus, Joan L. Ingamen, 38, of Skillman, with disregarding a stop sign on Jefferson Road. Five feet of curbing were torn up as a result of the mishap.

ZONERS SAY YES

To Medical Arts Expansion. Princeton Hospital took another step forward last week toward its goal of expanding its Medical Arts Building.

The Borough Zoning Board voted unanimously at its meeting Thursday to recommend to Mayor and Council that the hospital be granted a use variance. The Township Zoning Board voted in a similar fashion the week before.

The Borough Zoning Board further stipulated that all three lots in the Borough portion of the Hospital complex be combined into one. It also attached four conditions set forth by a Joint Meeting of the Borough and Township Planning Boards before they would approve the Hospital's site plan. These dealt with traffic patterns, the number of actual parking spaces that can be provided by the hospital, clarification of the future use of existing properties owned by the hospital on Harris Road and parking off Henry Avenue.

The fifth condition of the Planning Boards was a request to move a proposed parking garage located on the opposite side of Franklin Avenue to a northern portion of the hospital lot itself. This the Borough zoners ignored.

No Opposition. There was no one present who spoke out against the proposed expansion.

Hospital Administrator John Kauffman traced through old pictures and slides the growth of the hospital from 1919 when it consisted of one building with 32 beds and six doctors to 1967. Today, that single building has grown to a huge complex occupying most of a city block, has 242 beds and 157 doctors.

Speaking in behalf of the need for the expansion of the Medical Arts building were Benjamin Wright, a doctor of internal medicine, who has had offices in the MA building for 10 years; Dr. Edwin Rogers, chief of the hospital's section of psychiatry, and Dr. James Chandler, a surgeon.

George Conover, president of the 15-member Board of Trustees of the Hospital also spoke briefly. Elght trustees were present as well.

WINDOWS BROKEN

At Borough Hall, Library. Police last week listed several windows broken in the Borough, including ones at the new Borough Hall construction site and the Public Library.

A rear five-by-seven foot window at Borough Hall was broken by a rock. Police received the report on Monday but believe it happened over a week ago. A three by-five foot window on the north side of the library was shattered at 11:25 Friday night by a rock which, police said, almost struck a cleaning woman. A custodian called the police.

The same night some 30 minutes earlier, John Selah of Kingston called police to report the windshield and rear window of his car had been broken by stones. His 1966 model car had been parked in front of 48 Park Place.

Gordon Jacobs, owner of Gordon's Radio Service, 221 Witherspoon Street, reported that someone had broken a pane of glass in the front of his shop, reached in and removed a rear seat radio speaker valued at $28.50. He told police the theft occured on Saturday.

Mortar Stolen. A two foot-high orange plastic mortar and pestle was stolen from atop the delivery station wagon of the Nassau Pharmacy, 80 Nassau Street, Sunday morning. Marvin Reh, a clerk at the Pharmacy, said the car had been parked on Palmer Square. The advertising fixture was valued at $25.

Miss Barbara Hill, 10 Bayard Lane, reported the theft early last week of a tire and wheel from the trunk of her Volkswagen. The car had been parked in a side yard at the Bayard Lane address, she said.

HOSPITAL PLANS UNIT

For Coronary Patients. To provide intensive and specialized care for patients with heart illnesses, Princeton Hospital will soon institute a four-bed coronary care unit. Four rooms, currently in use as private wards, will be converted at an estimated cost of $80,000.

The unit will include patient monitoring equipment at each bedside and matching control units at a centralized nursing station. Construction will begin this summer and by late this year the coronary divisinn should be in complete operation.

Installation of the unit was prompted by a special report submitted to the Hospital Board of Trustees by a committee of the medical and dental staff. The committee, under the direction of Dr. William Haynes Jr. and Dr. Louis Fishman, reviewed coronary admissions over the last 12 months as a basis for its recommendation.

Dr. Haynes commented that surveys in other hospitals have also shown that survival rates of heart patients are markedly increased when these patients are treated in special units rather than in routine hospital wards. "Study after study has

The snow that fell — and stayed for a while — on Thursday was a climax to the cold, late spring. For the record, it was the latest measurable snowfall in April in the current century.

Things are about ready to get better, the Man thinks. Thursday and Friday will be just about right, showers are a Saturday possibility but even the weekend should be quite enjoyable.

ENTER FINIAN

With Rainbow. If you aren't in cast or chorus of "Finian's Rainbow," you may be the only one in your block at home this weekend.

P.J.&B.'s annual offering will open at McCarter at 7:30 this Thursday, continuing Friday and Saturday at the more conventional curtain-time of 8:30, and filling in with a matinee on Saturday at 2:30.

Milton Lyon thought up P. J. & B. in 1961 as an enterprise to involve the whole town. He has succeeded beyond the dreams of even Finian himself.

Three years ago, he produced "Showboat," thereby drawing onto the McCarter stage some first-rate Negro solo voices and other Negroes who may not sing quite that well, but still enjoy contributing to the chorus.

This year, with "Finian," he has many of those Negro residents back again, because "Finian" deals, frequently hilariously, with the question of color. (Sometimes even green: why do you think there's a leprechaun in the company?'

Last year, with "The King and I," Mr. Lyon called the roll of Princeton's children and nobody was too small to be part of the royal family.

I'm 16. This year, the littlest ones are in the minority, but Mr. Lyon let it be known that teen-agers were welcome — there was no teen room in "The King and I," — and when that big chorus breaks out with "If This Isn't Love," you can hear the happy timbre of all those young teen voices. This is no middle-aged chorus!

Looking at them in rehearsal, you see long, straight hair, jeans sawed off at the knee, sweatshirts. Trim Negro matrons in blouses and skirts bring a little dignity to the proceedings, but it looks almost like a rehearsal for the senior class play.

Mr. Lyon counts almost 30 teen-agers; Princeton area high school students are Debbie Arcamone, Andy Block, Lisa Crooks, Kim Cunningham, Derry Light (her daddy was the King last year) Julia Lockwood, Tom Hicks, Jorge Pizarro, Charles Pizarro, Christopher Reeve, Priscilla Featherson, Susan Koch, Pierina Tamaso, Terry Sheahan, Laura Moss and Rusty O'Brien.

Some have even moved out of the chorus. Young Larry Dixon plays the role of "Howard."

Hi, Mom! Family combinations familiar from other years are Mrs. Dorothy Alexander and her son, Dennis (he's one of the youngest in the company: watch him in that white suit in the wedding scene); Mrs. Yvonne Scudder and Debbie, Mrs. Evelyn Smith and her daughter.

And old timers . . .! Sally Warnock has been in every one of the seven P.J.&B. shows. Betty Fussell, who has the lead in "Finian," has been in five. Stu Duncan has been in four of seven. (He's the bigoted Suth'n senator in "Finian.")

Doug Langston has not only been in all seven, he's had principal roles in all seven. (Remember his Pete, the ugly one in "Showboat?" The bartender in "Anything Goes"?)

John Counts, librarian at Littlebrook School, was in "Showboat" and "Anything Goes" and is one of the quartet that sings the "Begat" number in "Finian."

And it's fun, of course, to welcome the newcomers. S. T. Kimbrough, who spends his days as Instructor in Biblical Studies at the Seminary, leaves the begats behind to sing Woody, the hero of "Finian." Mr. Kimbrough has had ten years' experience in musical comedy, oratorio and opera, and has sung here with the Princeton Opera Association.

That leprechaun is Gil Martin, studying voice at Westminster Choir College, and obviously majoring in Irish brogue. Finian McLonergan is Arthur Lithgow, not exactly a newcomer to the McCarter stage, but certainly several aisle seats removed from his usual chair as Director of Shakespeare.

Always, with P. J. & B., there's a nice beneath-the-surface camaraderie. After Saturday's rehearsal, Mr. Lyon keeps the cast on stage to remind them that they lose an hour of sleep to daylight saving before Sunday's dress rehearsal.

Everybody groans. But then he announces a party for the cast after it's all over. ". . . but only the cast and husbands and wives," he warns, "no friends! We haven't got enough money . . ."

Finian the Philosopher. Milt Lyon likes "Finian."

"It's a satirical fable," he muses. "It takes place in the mythical state of Missitucky, you know, and the question of color is integrated into the central statement of the play: looking beyond the surface of things — 'Look to the Rainbow,' is the way the song puts it."

"And at the end, Finian himself says, 'You're blind! You only see what you're lookin' at!'"

"CAT" PERFORMED

At Murray Theatre. Theatre Intime's ambitious production of "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," which continues at Murray Theatre Thursday through Saturday, is sometimes brilliant, but much of its ambition remains unfulfilled.

There are two superb leading performances, and the supporting cast is excellent. But one major character is miscast. Edward Townley's staging is only erratically successful, and the play is crippled by an inappropriate set.

Morris Kinnan Jr.'s portrayal of Big Daddy is the most strikingly successful aspect of the production. He powerfully incarnates the gruff, domineering plantation patriarch without neglecting the more sensitive aspect of a man to whom life is so important that pain comes welcome as a proof of existance. As his son, Brick, who feels betrayed by life and seeks to withdraw from it, John Vennema is almost as good. Their confrontation in the second act is Mr. Townley's major triumph. Here the dynamic interrelationships of the characters are dramatically realized with power and sensitivity.

Set Is Formless. In other scenes, however, these dramatic relationships break down, partly because of Mr. Townley's frequently stilted, sometimes curiously stylized staging, partly because much of the tension seems to evaporate against the sky blue of the backdrop of Robert Rockwell's airy, formless set.

Tennessee Williams' characters are stifling and cramped, trapped in a cage, as Maggie "the Cat" remarks. But Intime places them in a setting which is pleasantly cool and completely open. Since the boundaries are poorly defined, the staging is sometimes vague when it should be precise.

In the title role, Sydelle Pittas understands Maggie's emotional strength, her barely controlled passion and her piercing intelligence, but she is simply not big or strong enough to project them on the stage. The Southern accent alone overtaxes her small voice.

Almost all the secondary characters are ably interpreted Renee Stein as big Mama particularly deserves mention.

IT'S NEW To Us

DIRT IN YOUR YARD? Vacuum Will Scoop it Up. It's a vacuum cleaner made for indoors or outdoors or midway-doors, like the garage; in fact, you can use it anywhere the dirt is.

We found it poised and ready to churn into action at Bob Lang's in the Princeton Shopping Center. Comes in four sizes, from five-gallon capacity, through 10, 18 and up to 28. (The usual living-room-style vacuum cleaner holds about two, if you want something to compare by.)

Hoses measure for inches in diameter instead of the usual one and one-half, and this means you can pick up all kinds of outdoor debris, like pine cones on the swimming pool apron or twigs on the patio or sawdust and wood chips on the floor of the basement or garage.

Bob Lang has lots of things to keep you happy, indoors or out. Indoors, the store suggests air-conditioners by Chrysler, Hotpoint, Fedders, Admiral, Edison, Westinghouse, Republic . . . starting at $99.

Chrysler, from $118, is the favorite at Bob Lang. Did you know that these air-conditioners (and those of Westinghouse, too) are now made for sliding windows as well as for sash windows? Now you know.

You can go even farther toward hot-weather comfort in this damp and steamy part of the world with a de-humidifier from General Electric or Edison. How about buying one to supplement your air-conditioner?

Even more cool inside with those new narrow double-door refrigerator-freezers from Westinghouse or Admiral. Here is the princely Westinghouse model, only 32 inches wide, with thin-wall insulation, automatic icemaker, twin crispers for lots of summer salad and a very tailored interior indeed.

Admiral is fancier inside, with grille-like partitions and trim. It has an automatic icemaker, too, and adjustable shelves and fascinating dispenser shelves for juice cans.

Did we say it's frost-free? Well, it is, and this means that the refrigerator does the defrosting and not you.

After you've taken the food out, how about cooking it? Caloric or Crown ranges give you infra-red broilers, so you can cook the steak while you're tucking the napkin under your chin. Who said charcoal!

Both refrigerators come in copper, a soft avocado or yellow as well as white and Westinghouse has a nice wooden inlay in the handle that runs down the front to separate the two parts.

Kitchenaid's dishwasher is a convertible. Sure, you have to keep the top down, but that's not the kind of convertible we mean.

Bob Lang explains that a convertible can be used as a portable or can go under-the-counter as a built-in. There are also real portables, too, with maple cutting-board tops.

REMEMBER DADDY? Hulit's Does. If Daddy has a hole in his shoe because everybody in the family has new shoes except him, take him to Hulit's and buy him a pair of dark brown leather sandals from Morocco by way of Cloudhoppers.

Three styles to choose from, all with nice foam innersoles to cushion those tired feet after a hard day's commuting. One style has broad cross straps and a slink back. Another is a scuff, with the two broad cross-straps and no sling. The third is almost a shoe, with bare toes and heels.

Knockabouts, by Keds, fill another masculine need: a cool casual that looks like a shoe. Keds has made the Knockabout from a sand-colored fabric which makes it resemble

A VACUUM CLEANER? Of course, and why not? The outdoors can get just as littered as the indoors, and Bob Lang, the Shopping Center appliance store, thoughtfully supplies this Sunbeam beauty for cleaning up garages, workshops, poolsides and patios. Harold Teagardeo, manager of the store, shows how. (Staff photo)

"Black Zero" was part of the expanded cinema festival given at the Film Makers Cinematique and Bridge Theatre last in the winter of 1965. LIKE NOSTALGIA?

Try Hammerstein. Sentimentalists and people who like musical comedy — frequently the same—will revel in "Lyrics by Oscar Hammerstein II," which will open the season for the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope on Saturday. It will run through May 20.

More than 70 songs by the late lyricist will probably get the audience into joining right in, although this is far from the director's idea. The director is William Hammerstein, Oscar II's son.

Imogene Coca stars in the show and narrates it as well, and in her spare time, joins the company in song and dance. Leon Bibb and Dorothy Coulter are in it, too, and so are Julia Migenes (remember her in "Fiddler on the Roof?"), Gary Oakes, Delores Bauer, Walter P. Brown, Pamela Burrell, Bradford Craig, Luce Ennis, Ed Erickson, Richard Kahn and Jane Laughlin.

Telephone and mail orders are now being accepted by the Playhouse at 20% discount. Theatre parties receive group discounts. The telephone is 215 862 2046.

For Experimental Show. Tickets are going, going, but not yet gone, from McCarter's experimental film show next Monday at 8 p.m.

On the programm will be "Oh, Dem Watermelons," which debunks the Negro stereotype; "Geography of the Body," which has been called "a daring pilgrimage over the human form;" "Black and White Burlesque," and Bruce Connor's "Cosmic Ray."

"Wholly Communion," a filmed "happening," will be the feature of the evening, and second billing goes to a pair of animation films, "Boiled Egg" from France and the "The Hand," a puppet-animation from Czechoslovakia.

"THE DOLL"

Swedish Film Ends Series. The 1962 Swedish film, "The Doll," will bring to a close McCarter's International Film Series. Arne Mattsson's directorial success will be shown on Wednesday, May 10 at 8 p.m.

"The Doll" is the psychological study of a lonely young night watchman who steals a store mannequin. He pleads with it to come alive and finally, in his mind, it does and total madness is the result.

Per Oscarson plays the night watchman and Gio Petre the doll. The film was banned in England when it was released, which ought to increase McCarter's sales considerably.

"HONEY" IN REHEARSAL

Fete to Benefit. Part of the proceeds for each night's performance of "A Taste of Honey," Community Player's spring production, will be donated to the Princeton Hospital Fete.

The Shelagh Delaney play is now in rehearsal, Harry Rubel directing. The play will be given in Murray Theatre at 8:30 on May 26, 27 and 28 and June 1, 2 and 3.

TO DANCE CINDERELLA

At McCarter Theatre. The School of the Princeton Ballet Society is preparing a full length version of the ballet "Cinderella" for presentation at McCarter Theatre. Making the announcement of the dance event was Audree Estey, director of the Ballet Society.

The last production of the Society was a ballet for two years ago of another fairy tale, "Sleeping Beauty." Tickets for the presentation on June 2 at 8:30, may be reserved at the McCarter box-office.

YOUR WAVE PERFECT?

Brown's Is. "Waterlogged" is the surfing film that took Bruce Brown to the beaches of Australia, California and Hawaii, to such golden sands of fable as Waimea Bay, Sunset Beach and the Banzai Pipeline.

The full-length surfing spectacular wil be shown at McCarter next Friday, May 12 at 8 p.m. Tickets are now on sale at the theatre box-office and may be obtained by mail (Box 526) or telephone (921-8700).

PLAYHOUSE and PRINCE

Hombre (now playing) might be termed a character study as well as a suspenseful, salty western. Paul Newman's low-key heroism in fighting for the despised Apaches carries with it a tenseness that ends only with the tragic close.

Captured by the Apaches as a child and raised as one of their own, Newman finds it difficult to adjust to the white world of eastern Arizona in the 1880's. He has been taming wild horses for the local stageline, but the once-prosperous town is now dead. Footloose, he takes the last coach out of town and during a violent ride becomes involved with an Indian agent, Frederic March, who is absconding with $12,000 gained through crooked contracts. Set upon by bandits who take the money and the agent's wife (Diane Cilento), the passengers depend upon Newman for survival. The rugged and uncompromising story builds in intensity until the harsh climax.

The cast includes Richard Boone, Martin Balsam and Barbara Ruch, all well suited to their assignments. Green Sheet rating: for adults and mature youth.

GARDEN

Bullwhip Griffin (Thursday through Saturday) is a lighthearted outdoor spoof that should please family audiences. The film is produced by Walt Disney's Buena Vista studios, with the to-be-expected blending of human characters and clever animation.

Roddy McDowall gives a sparkling performance as Bullwhip Griffin, an English butler who can rise to any emergency. Karl Malden enacts once again a splendidly despicable villain.

The story concerns the adventures of two young people, played by Suzanne Pleshette and Bryan Russell. Russell runs off to sea, followed by the butler, McDowell. Stowaways on a ship bound for San Francisco, they are saved by McDowall's cooking, which renders him indispensible to the captain.

They obtain a map of a hidden gold mine and it is promptly stolen from them by Malden, causing a hectic chase through the goldfields. They find the gold, lose it to Malden, Miss Pleshette comes to San Francisco in search of her brother, and McDowall winds up singing in a saloon. The big scene is the street fight between McDowall and the town bully.

The 25th Hour (Sunday through next Wednesday). The year 1939 is the starting point of an unusual and frequently absorbing eight-year odyssey of a Roumanian peasant tossed about Europe by events he does not understand.

Anthony Quinn is effective in the key role, a symbol of Europeans uprooted from their lands as a result of World War II. He is supported by a fine international cast. When the film opens, Quinn, a Christian, is dragged from his home and placed in a jewish labor camp by the Roumanian police captain who covets his pretty wife, Virna Lisi. He escapes, fleeing to Budapest, where he is arrested by the Hungarians and sent to a German labor camp.

He is spotted by a high-ranking German who considers that he has the perfect

"Hello," from the Mouse

That wonderful etched mouse used by The Country Mouse to advertise his wares has been engraved on a series of new greeting cards, available at the shop, 164 Nassau.

They are biggies, seven inches long by six inches wide, with enough white space to write a long love-letter. One shows a happy mouse head peeking out the curtained door of a tree house, with the caption "New House?"

"Feeling mousey?" expresses the aches of a bleary-eyed fellow with ice-bag between his mouse ears and a flour sack blanket keeping him warm.

A demure bride waits for your congratulations, and your favorite carpet-bag mouse wishes "Bon Voyage!"

But our own favorite is the mouse with the watermelon. Look him up yourself.

You may have it in an ankle boot, an oxford or a loafer. There are two colors; sand and wet sand.

For mother and the girls, Hulit's has about a dozen different textured stockings. How about lemon yellow? Or a diamond-patterned navy blue? Lots in between, too, like a creamy ivory, or a sandy sand, or even white or black. And many different weaves and textures. All full length.

The girls are wearing "Doll Baby," a pump with low Louis heel and grosgrain bow on the vamp, in navy, white or black patent.

And that shell pink is a trim little sling in calf, with bars holding in the open vamp. It comes in bone or a very dark navy, too.

Air Step's Corfam spectators have a stacked walking heel. If you want a slimmer, dressier heel, Hulit's has that too, in a white spectator trimmed with black patent or brown.

Kedette's "Bar Harbor" is a flat Ked in faded green or red with a square white-edged buckle. There's a Kedette sling this year, too, and a little-girl shoe with a broad strap and a buckle.

One of our favorite flats isn't a Kedette at all. It's the flattest in the world, a sandal with duo-colored cross straps (no thongs) in olive, blue, tangerine or coffee. The solid sole comes in any of those colors.

Italian flat sandals are in, finally. Hulit's thinks they may have been delayed by the floods of months ago. Anyhow, here they are, dark and Latin in walnut and rope, some with toe loop most with thong.

PAPER DRESS?

And More to Come. The paper dress we tried on at Pheasant and Deer is just two ohlongs held together by side gussets. "Wow" pink with a band of yellow, although we saw one with purple on it somewhere. More paper is expected. Keep in touch.

Now that Pheasant and Deer has expanded eastward into the shop next door, there are more dresses and shirts and yalalags than ever, to say nothing of small hand-woven cotton carryalls for summer (provided "all" isn't too "all") and Garbo paper hats.

To get you off the curiosity hook, a yalalag is rather like physical features of a pure German. Quinn is given a German uniform and photographed for the magazines. He effects another escape and finally becomes an American prisoner, where he is put on trial in Nuremberg as a German collaborator.

Director Henri Verneuil tones this drama with a certain bitterness for Roumanians, Germans, Russians and Americans. Nobody comes out innocent. The film carries a Green Sheet rating: suitable for adults, mature youth and youth.

demonstrated that coronary care units save lives," said Dr. Haynes.

Heart patients will be assigned to the special unit during the three to five day period when death is likely to occur due to a correctable cause. A continuous monitoring system of cardiac rates, rhythm and electrocardiographic patterns will trigger alarms if any abnormality should occur.

The hospital plans to send nine nurses to a training center to learn advancer coronary nursing skills. Two nurses will then be available at all hours of the day, seven days a week, to staff the coronary facility.

Managing the intensive care unit will be the Coronary Care and Cardiopulmonary Function Committee of the hospital staff. They will provide the medical complement for the trained nursing staff.

VIOLATIONS CITED

In Township Code. Four property owners and two tenants have been notified of neglect under the Township's Housing Code, and a group of dwellings, eight of them probably occupied, have been spot-checked under the code.

Names, addresses and details were read last Thursday night at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Health by Mrs. Marcella Farley, health officer, who made the inspections.

Violations listed by Mrs. Farley for landlords included such matters as leaky water lines to the toilet, supporting timbers missing or in need of repair, cracked walls and ceilings, odor of gas in a basement, windows without sash cords, cracked or broken window glass, window frames so deteriorated they would no longer support glass, inadequate heating, inadequate lighting outlets, porous bathroom floors.

Violations listed for tenants included garbage and rubbish not disposed of, exits blocked by furniture, basement debris that could cause a fire, dirt and grease on kitchen appliances (especially stoves), overcrowded closets.

Landlords, Tenants. Landlords cited were John Delmouzos for his property at 293 Witherspoon; Bruce H. French for his property at 213-19 Birch Avenue; Joseph, Louis and James Bovino for 36 Leigh Avenue and Mrs. R. J. Liljilund for 290 Witherspoon.

Tenants cited were Edward Vernon, tenant of Mr. Delmouzos' at 293 Witherspoon and Julius Huntley, tenant of Mr. French's at 213-19 Birch. Isiah Fisher, the other tenant of Mr. French's at 213-19, was commended by Mrs. Farley for an apartment she called "beautifully clean."

Mrs. Farley said she inspected 293 Witherspoon on complaint from the Township Welfare Department and that it was her third inspection of the property. The tenant was given until last Friday to clear debris, Mrs. Farley said.

Inspection of 213-19 Birch was made at the request of Earl McQueen at a previous Board of Health meeting. Mrs. Farley said that Mr. Huntley after two requests, had complied with her requirements that he clear away debris. She told the Board that Mr. French had not replied to her letter, written April 5. The Board said that he would have 30 days from the Board's meeting (April 27) to reply.

Inspection of 36 Leigh Avenue was made on complaint from Seymour Alpert. Mrs. Farley said that she, a contractor and Louis Bovino had examined the premises, and that extensive work is now being done by the Bovinos on the property, inside and out.

Inspection of the 290 Wither-

a poncho. It comes from Mexico and is natural hand-loomed cotton. Bright hand-embroidery goes down each side seam and a bit down the front. Too pretty to wear over a bathing suit, but you could, anyway.

Hand-loomed cotton appears again in a natural muslin dress which is really a "rebozo," extended to dress length. (Other "rebozos" are popover length, some with fringe, all in muslin color.)

Indian women in Mexico wear an unbleached muslin dress whose skirt is mostly two giant pockets. Sleeves are long and wide and there is curious, diagonal tucking on the yoke.

Mexican weeding shirts — yes! These classic shirts, for men and women, come in the traditional red or black embroidery on the yoke of plain muslin, or . . .

In wild, hot orange with thick embroidery that looks almost like crewel. All of Pheasant and Deer's hand-embroidery comes from a Tarascan Indian woman with the unlikely name of Vicki. Like her lime green shirt, with the colored thread-work?

Straight, bell-sleeved dresses for patio wear are made of sturdy cotton in bright orange, purple, green or blue, with embroidery on the sleevs or down the front. Sashes are optional, and some are nicely fringed.

Those Garbo hats are made of laminated Japanese tissue paper, and some are made of more than one color so that light shining through (the translucence is most effective) may be a pattern of colors. Great for people who can't be in the sun, or who just want to look pretty. Green! Orange! Pink! And one made out of a Greek newspaper.

Just so you'll know that Pheasant and Deer hasn't abandoned furniture and accessories, we'll tell you about the classic Mexican leather and rush chairs and tables, the thick straw hassock (you'll want that one on your patio) and the fascinating four-foot child's bed, almost square and certainly no more than eight inches above the floor. Old and worn, and thoroughly charming.

spoon property was a follow up of an inspection made last December, Mrs. Farley said. She told the Board that Mrs. Liljlund had promised to install a bathroom for the first floor tenant, who now shares a bath, as soon as possible.

Spot - Checks. Spot - checked properties included unoccupied houses on Alexander Street, Leigh Avenue, Birch Avenue, Bayard Lane and Drakes Corner Road. Mrs. Farley also said she did outdoor-only spot checks of seven houses on Leigh Avenue and one on Birch.

She believes that most of these are occupied, and said she has already received answers from several owners promising action. Most of these houses have rotting masonry, unsafe stairways with no balustrades or trash in rear yards.

Mrs. Farley told the Board she was welcomed on her inspection rounds, but "sensed some fear" from tenants.

Mrs. Harold Kuhn referred to the recent decision of the Borough Board of Health to ask for an amendment to the Borough code requiring inspection of rental units between tenants, and she asked whether the Township would follow suit.

Dr. William Kleinberg, chairman of the Township Board, reaffirmed the Board's announced policy of spot-checking, and responding to any complaints. "There will be an adequate number of inspections, but I can't tell you the exact number each month," he said.

Mrs. Kuhn said that Mrs. Fisher had made no complaint about alleged landlord violations at 213-19 Birch, and she asked how a good tenant, like the Fishers, could be protected?

Dr. Kleinberg replied that the frequency of spot inspections would take care of this, and he told those present at the meeting that Township Attorney Gordon Griffin agreed that the Board's policy is within the code, and that the Board is fulfilling its responsibilities.

Dr. Richard Barach, member of the Board, said he had talked with people who live in the Birch-Witherspoon area and found many who were not eager for inspections.

Mrs. Benson Carlin challenged Dr. Barach on this point, and said that enforcement of the code was not a matter of whether tenants wanted it or not. She urged routine inspections, and asked the Board to hire more help for Mrs. Farley.

Dr. Barach replied that strict enforcement would drive people out of Princeton because landlords would raise rents to pay for improvements. "We don't want to dislocate people out of this community," he said.

Dr. Kleinberg admitted "we haven't inspected as much as we should have, but I think we will do a better job now; we are willing to take more of Mrs. Farley's time for more inspections. Given a little time, we'll get to all properties."

MAY MARKET SET

By Garden Club. The Stony Brook Garden Club will hold its eighth annual May Market from 10 to 5 on Tuesday unless rain postpones the sale until the following day. It will be held at 15 Hodge Road.

The event will have a varied selection of garden materials, including herbs, annuals, perennials, bedding substance, edging and plants for stady sites. Strawberry plants, wildflowers and ferns may also be on sale.

Proceeds from the sale are earmarked for the club's donation fund, which supports civic projects including the Princeton Hospital and the Rockingham Herb Garden. A special group at the May Market under the direction of Mrs. James Wittke, Mrs. Bonsall Strong and Mrs. Robert J. Dr. John J. McKenna, superintendent of schools, had estimated the cost to Princeton at $25,000, but he said this week after passage of the measure, that $35,000-plus is a more realistic figure.

The new state law requires school districts to provide free transportation to and from school for private and parochial school children who live 20 miles from the school they attend.

For Princeton, this means that about 250 youngsters in St. Paul's, The Hun School, Stuart

HOW TO MAKE A SMALL ROOM LOOK LARGER

There are many ways you can make small rooms look larger. Wall to wall carpet is one way. It always makes a room seem larger. The use of mirrors or an entire mirrored wall is another good way.

Another rule is not to overcrowd a small room. Use as few pieces of furniture as possible and use small dimensioned pieces.

Use a love seat instead of a sofa and the love seat should be lightly scaled and not heavy and overstuffed. Use occasional or armless chairs instead of large lounge chairs and keep the size of everything used in the room smaller in proportion.

Needless to say, never use wall paper, carpet or upholstery with large patterns in a small room.

A hand painted or wall paper mural of a landscape or seascape will add third dimensional depth to a room.

Use a small snack table or two in front of your sofa instead of large cocktail table.

Light, bright and airy colors make a room look larger while dark, drab colors make it contract. Heavy draperies should be avoided.

Try using groups of miniature pictures or accessories instead of a large picture.

Perhaps most important of all is the final ensemble and arrangement of the furniture you use. We'll be happy to offer you personal suggestions and help you in any way we can. Come on in and talk over your decorating problems.

INDIVIDUAL TESTING for READING AND LEARNING PROBLEMS

Parents of children having reading or learning problems in school can benefit from diagnostic testing of their child's capacities in one or more of the following areas:

- INTELLIGENCE
- ATTENTION AND CONCENTRATION
- VOCABULARY DEVELOPMENT
- READING COMPREHENSION
- SPELLING
- EMOTIONAL DEVELOPMENT
- HEARING
- VISION
- ASSOCIATIVE LEARNING

This testing will locate those factors hindering your child's progress in school and, thus, point the way to corrective measures to facilitate the realization of his or her potential ability.

Your attention is directed to the individual nature of these tests. They are not administered en masse, nor are they scored by computers. Instead, each test is individually administered and personally evaluated by our Director of Testing who is a fully trained and extensively experienced testing specialist. His written evaluation and recommendations will be sent to you and, if you wish, to your child's school. In addition, he will personally discuss the test results with you at your convenience.

We invite you to take advantage of this individual testing by calling our Director of Testing for an appointment at 921-6195.

Life insurance now can save money for young marrieds

Ask any independent financial counsellor. With few exceptions they'll advise life insurance as one of the first steps towards financial security. For young people it's generally the only way to create instant and substantial capital to replace earning power. And the younger you are when you buy, the lower the premiums.

You'll save money in another way too, if you buy cash value life insurance. This contains a living cash benefit that grows through the magic of compound interest. Your policy cash value can be used to finance a college education in the future or to add to a retirement income. In the meantime it's available to you in an emergency, or for a business opportunity. For example, it's about the best loan collateral you can have. "Do you own any life insurance?", is one of the first questions your bank manager will ask.

How do you fit life insurance into your budget? It's easier today than ever. Manufacturers Life's Manu-Matic Check Plan will provide for an automatic monthly deduction from your bank account and free you from budgeting worries. Ask the Man from Manufacturers to tell you more. You'll like his friendly and competent approach to your life insurance problems.

IVY MANOR TO REOPEN

Saturday Morning. Ivy Manor will reopen its furniture showroom in the Princeton Shopping Center Saturday morning at 9 when Township Mayor Carl Schafer will cut a ribbon across the front door. The store has been closed since last September when a dense smoke fire ruined furnishings in the basement and showroom floor.

During the opening day, ceremonies there will be free gifts and refreshments. (See advertisement, pages 28 and 29.)

Walter Harris, store manager, said that Ivy Manor was completely new inside. "It's been repainted, recarpeted and redecorated in every phase," he said. The interior has been redone in an Early American motif and features Early American galleries.

Salesmen at Ivy Manor are Robert Parcels and Richard Kaechele.

MANAGEMENT UPHELD

In Proxy Fight. The management of Fifth Dimension, Route 206, has successfully fought off an attempt by its former president, Edwin Donath, to regain control of the electronics firm he founded in 1959.

In a stockholders' meeting last Wednesday at the Nassau Inn, voters supported management 3 to 2. Of the 539,247 shares represented at the meeting, management won almost 326,000. Elected to the Board of Directors were Theodore Sperry, president; David Ginsberg, Frederick J. Grunwald, Charles Wohlstetter and Arthur G. Keller.

Mr. Sperry, whom Mr. Donath had accused of seizing the company from him, said the outcome was a vote of confidence in the Board of Directors and management. "Obviously, the stockholders were not taking at face value the accusations and claims of the opposing slate," he said.

SAVINGS FIRMS MEET

In Atlantic City. Mercer County savings officials and firms were honored this week at the 58th annual convention of the New Jersey Savings and Loan League, meeting in Atlantic City.

Mrs. Charlotte W. Dougherty, president of Princeton Savings and Loan Association, was elected to the board of governors for a three-year term. She will represent associations in the League's fourth district which includes Mercer, Somerset, Hunterdon and Warren Counties.

A Golden Anniversary certificate was awarded to Princeton Savings, which marks its 50th anniversary on June 7. "This certificate," League President Warren Hill said, "is symbolic of the contribution of the Princeton Savings and Loan Association, and the savings and loan business as a whole, to the economic growth and development of our state."

Certificates attesting to 25 years of service to the savings and loan business were also awarded by Mr. Hill. Mercer County recipients were Arthur L. Everett, director of Nassau Savings and Loan Association; W. Radcliffe Jones, vice-president of Pennington Savings and Loan, and William Friedman, director of Stacy Savings and Loan, Trenton.

CONTRACT AWARDED

To Aero-Chem Laboratory. A federal contract of $49,995 has been given Aero-Chem Laboratory by the Department of the Interior. Rep. Frank Thompson Jr. explained that Aero-Chem contracted to conduct research in the field of water desalination.

Prior research has found that resins are an essential part of certain desalination systems. These resins soon lose their effectiveness unless they are regenerated by an expensive chemical process.

Aero-Chem in a one-year program will try to determine whether a cheap electric method of regeneration is possible. If the research laboratory should find that electric regeneration is more effective and less expensive than chemical regeneration, the U.S. will have taken a great step toward using the oceans as a source of fresh water.

ACCOUNTANTS ORGANIZE

For New Princeton Group. Princeton businessmen have formed an Organization Committee to petition the National Association of Accountants for a Princeton Chapter. The 48-year old NAA is the largest accounting organization in the world with 58,000 members.

A former president of the NAA's Trenton Chapter, Robert M. Hendry, was elected chairman of the group. Mr. Hendry, current Borough Council member, is associated with RCA Laboratories.

John W. Caffry, controller at RCA Laboratories, is the new secretary, and Arthur A. Foy, certified public accountant with Parsons, Foy and Murphy, the new treasurer. They will assist Mr. Hendry with the necessary organizational procedures and are prepared to provide further information to prospective members.

Thank You Note.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On Wednesday morning I was standing on my bus corner waiting for the bus to Valley Road School. A spring wind came blowing up and blew my papers all down Poe Road.

The sixth grade bus came by and stopped. The bus driver waited patiently while the boys piled off the bus to help me get them picked up.

This is a letter to thank the sixth grade bus driver who waited patiently and to thank the boys who helped me.

Film Fare Protested.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

When, oh, when, are we going to be getting a more steady diet of decent movies for the teen age group and adults to see? I also know my younger children would enjoy going to the movies more often.

Again this family of six, in different age groups, won't be going to the movies this week of the 26th. "Hotel" and "The Deadly Affair" are on the bill. I think I'll start to look to Somerville for our night out.

Sex Is Not to Be Censored.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Two items in last week's TOWN TOPICS provided an interesting commentary on our society and some of the myths which infuse it.

The first was report of the letter of the Family Movie Committee of Princeton which was submitted to the directors of Palmer Square, Inc. in which this committee questioned and condemned as unfit the films "glorifying intense, sometimes even sadistic violence and dwelling at length on explicit details of sexual encounter."

Granted — the sadistic portrayal may be said, like our television often seems, to implant the idea of violence within us and our youth. Yet might it be that the best thing for our youth is to witness on film the natural sexual encounter in detail to allow our youth to come to accept and thus feel at ease with what should be such.

We may proceed to the response that one individual produced when asked in "Question of the Week" if we would object to his wife wearing a mini-dress:

"Absolutely. I tell you one thing: that's why there's so much rape as there is — women are going around half naked. If my wife wore one, I'd always feel she wouldn't be fully dressed."

Yet what has, in fact, caused all these "rapes" is not the excessive revealing of the human body but the constant warning to which we are subjected: to cover up ourselves, to repress completely our natural desires and thoughts.

As we have thus been taught to repress by so many of our "elders," we have come to give to the human body such supra-exaggerated proxi-mystical importance that we have heaped ourselves subsequent anxiety and unnatural deeds which we witness in rapes.

We must be frankly shown continuously at an early age what does exist so that we may naturally accept life and subsequently reach a rational regulation of our sexual desires which can be so easily and naturally achieved.

It seems that the family films which idealize, exaggerate and distort reality and thus set certain conceptions of life within us — adults and youth — this opiate "Art" is what must be questioned. Can there not be a place for natural reality and fantasy?

Sewer Plan Study Backed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce and Civic Council has followed with enthusiasm the progress being made toward a "sub-regional" sewer plan.

The Chamber has long been an advocate of cooperative municipal planning on the basis that it is often more efficient and economical for reasons of topography, environment, and practicality.

Regardless of whether or not the subsequent engineering study shows the plan to be realistic, the Chamber supports and commends the municipal officials of Hopewell Borough, Hopewell Township, Princeton Borough, Princeton Township, Pennington and West Windsor Township, and Princeton University for a cooperative municipal effort.

Harvard 3 - Princeton 0!
We opened anyway

It took courage, but in June of 1917, under clouds of war and a football loss to Harvard, the Princeton Building and Loan opened it's doors . . . (more precisely it's counter, since at the time we were located in the offices of the Princeton Bank and Trust). In the 50 years that followed Princeton's football teams have greatly improved. So has Princeton Savings. Win, lose or draw with Harvard, at Princeton Savings you get old-fashioned service and new-fangled top dividend rates.

MOVIE CENSORSHIP BOTHERS THEM: What is an obscene film to one might be art to another. "You can't censor an art film" say Bruce Raaum (left), adding, "the whole idea of censorship is ridiculous." Hun senior Derek Smith feels films such as the type the Family Movie Committee is protesting wouldn't have any detrimental effect on teenagers his age.

Question of the Week

Question: The Family Movie Committee of Princeton charges that too many films today glorify violence and dwell at length on explicit details of sexual encounter, adding, ". . . this is not a healthy moral atmosphere for our young people to be exposed to." Do you agree films are going too far in portraying sex and violence?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Mrs. Mariam Yutkowitz, 293 Riverside Drive, interior designer: I think a great deal depends on the way sex is portrayed. If it is done in a healthy, normal fashion, I don't see anything wrong with an older teenager seeing a film like "Dear John." It depends on the age of the child. Parents should use discretion. I think "Blow Up" is an example of a beautifully done but basically sick film. I wouldn't want any teenager to see that under any circumstance. As for violence, there's no question it has a tremendous fascination for the teenager. I can see where a James Bond film, even though it might have a certain fascination, might not be healthy. But I don't see why you're picking on movies only. Television must share the blame in a lot of this.

Mrs. Eleanor Clausen, Kingston, secretary: I have a 12-year-old boy who saw one of these films in a Saturday afternoon matinee. If I had known I wouldn't have permitted him to go. Perhaps parents should be more interested in where their children go because I imagine the movie houses will show whatever the traffic wants.

Joseph Leska, St. Joseph's College, Lake Road, student: Yes, I think people are going to find out all about violence and sex in their own lives. I don't think either should be displayed or exploited on the screen.

Mrs. Michael Marotta, Cranbury, secretary, Sturhahn, Dickinson & Bernard: First of all, yes, I think they have gone too far. There's so many bad and unhappy things going on today that movies should be entertaining and enjoyable as possible. Young people can see too much violence without having to go to the movies. I think I'm more opposed to that than anything else. Teenagers today know so much they're not going to see something they don't already know.

Miss Anne Seitz, Cherry Valley Road, student: I've just spent the last couple of months in Germany and I know there if there's a movie with sex in it, it says right on the box office, "No children under 16." Sometimes under 12. That way, a mature audience can appreciate an adult film. That's why Bergman's and a lot of foreign films are censored before they come to the U.S. because they know children are allowed to see them here. No one under 16, for example, would be allowed to see "Georgy Girl" in Germany. So I would recommend some sort of automatic censoring like this — and encourage that more films for children be made.

Bruce Raaum, Skillman, PHS senior: I don't believe in censorship. If you don't like it, don't go. You can't censor an art film or that type of thing. Some are good and some aren't, but to put power in a committee such as this is ridiculous. It really bothers me. If you give these groups enough power they'll really stifle a lot of things.

Derek Smith, 485 Kingston Road, Hun School senior: An expression of art shouldn't be censored. We know enough about life now at our age — or we should — so that it wouldn't have any detrimental effects. If these films upset someone, I imagine they wouldn't — or shouldn't — go. I feel it all should be left up to the individual.

Mrs. Shirley Heory, Trenton, secretary, Educational Testing Service: I feel parents should have sufficient control over their children so they can regulate what movies they go to. I believe this is a problem of parents, not of censorship.

Joel DuBow, 17 Olden Street, graduate student, electrical engineering and employee RCA: No. Films portray life and if this is the way life is then I see no reason why films can't portray it. I think it's utterly ridiculous to have someone tell me I can't see a film because it wouldn't be morally good for some six year old. Either gear our society for adults or for children. If people don't want children to see a movie, don't let them, but don't penalize me.

Miss Diane Smith, Vandeventer Avenue, PHS senior: It's not only movies, the whole nation is drifting that way. I don't think these movies are bad for our morals. After they've shown all this it doesn't mean anything. You see it and forget it. It could possibly influence a younger person — 12 or 13 — but not older teenagers.

Mrs. Edwin A. Hopkins, 2 E. Stanworth, housewife: Yes, I feel so, very definitely. I think they could turn to some educational films, the kind they show on TV and which are very popular in Germany.

Craig Rule, Theological Seminary, student: Sex or violence in a movie depends on the context — whether it is done as an art form like "Blow-Up," or whether it is done for mere sensationalism. For example, I don't think the sex in "Blow-Up" was put in just to titillate. I feel there was some sort of point to it. I think the director was sincere in trying to get a message across. However, I'm not pushing "Blow-Up" as a film everyone should see. There is a point where maturity is hard to define. I certainly wouldn't want a 15-year old son of mine to see it.

Mrs. Constance Maggio, North Brunswick, employee, Systemedics, 20 Nassau Street: Walk around the street and you will see most of what you see in movies. If they want to bar minors from seeing certain movies they should stick to it but they don't. People over 21 already have their morals set, anyway. What they see won't affect them too much. Most younger kids are pretty well set in their morals, too. In the movies, half the time it's forgotten as soon as they see it. I think pornagraphic books are a lot worse. These they can take with them and look at them again and again.

Mrs. Thurland Wilkinson, 571 Lake Drive, housewife: Yes, I do. I think they are exposing them to things they're really not prepared to handle. I believe if they are brought up as Christians, our younger people will get a much better understanding of life. Movies are putting things in their minds they haven't even thought of. I also feel that sex education should be taught in the schools at the proper grade level. This should be looked into and some program set up.

MILESTONE PASSED

By Chamber Orchestra. It is not very often that concert-goers or opera lovers get an opportunity to hear Gluck's "Orfeod Euridice." Last Wednesday, the Princeton Chamber Orchestra under the direction of Nicholas Harsanyi, with soloists Maureen Forester, Janice Harsanyi, Mary Evelyn Bruce, and members of the Westminster Choir, performed Gluck's masterpiece in a concert version before a sellout audience at McCarter Theater.

Gluck was one of the reformers" of opera during the 18th century. Born during the waning years of the Baroque, he lived through the transitional rococo period and into the flowering of the classical area.

In "Orfeo," he produced a score of exquiste lovliness, great depth of emotion and technical mastery that established its creator as one of the major operatic composers of his time. Through its many rages, one can hear moments of the Baroque gradeur of Handel and Purcell, the Italian masters, such as his great contemporary, Pergolesi (who in his brief life of but 26 years composed enduring masterpieces) and passages that recall the later Mozart. For one, unfamiliar with the opera, these associations come to mind, but to the scholar of this period, Gluck's stylistic personality is undeniably his own.

The performance of this extraordinary work was magnificent. Mr. Harsanyi is a master of the 18th century style and his past performances of the earlier symphonies of Haydn and Mozart have prepared him well for the interpretation of the Gluck opera.

It was evident the conductor was clearly in command of his resources. This was a keen sense of phrasing, balance and precision in the Princeton Chamber Orchestra's playing. The solo playing by the wind members (added to the orchestra's normal compliment of strings) was first rate. What is all the more remarkable is the orchestra's brilliance of tone quality.

This takes years to build, but Mr. Harsanyi has done it in less than three. Compared with the sound of some of the visiting chamber orchestras that have played at McCarter during the past three or four years, the Princeton Chamber Orchestra stands well above the standards of these other ensembles.

Miss Forester sang the title role of Orfeo and had the "lion's share" of the solo singing. Her contralto quality has been noted by this reviewer before (her two concerts in Princeton previously, convinced this listener that she is one of the great interpreters of lieder) and her performance as Orfeo was simply outstanding.

All the solo parts in "Orfeo" are difficult, but for different reasons. In the title role of Orfeo, the singer has to perform practically the entire opera. In the roles of Euridice, sung by Janice Harsanyi, and Amore, sung by Mary Evelyn Bruce, there is, outside of two or three arias and recetatives, very little else to do but sit on the stage during a concert performance and try to look inconspicuous.

It is not an easy task, then, for the two singers performing in the latter roles to strike out with clear, strident tones after being silent for the better part of an entire act. It was notable that both Mrs. Harsanyi and Miss Bruce had difficulty in projecting the upper part of their registers. Once Mrs. Harsanyi (who had more to sing as Euridice than did Miss Bruce as Amore) had had the opportunity to sing a few more passages, her voice achieved the unique beauty that has endeared her to her audiences in past performances.

In summation, the idea of performing Gluck's "Orfeo" in concert as opposed to a dramatic presentation is not without merit. The music flowed smoothly; there was a sense of continuity and balance, and the story, so well known, could scarcely have been enhanced by the stylistic operatic mores of the early to middle 18th century. A small choir of only 16 voices was employed, and though the members of the Westminster choir sang well enough, a slightly larger choral force would have been more convincing. The performance of Gluck's "Orfeo" represents a milestone of professional achievement by Mr. Harsanyi, and the Princeton Chamber Orchestra. Bravo!

BROTHER AND SISTER FOLK-SINGERS: Among those to be heard in Sunday's Junior Museum Folk-Sang Singalong are Kerry and Karen Kruskal. The duo, winners as "The Sibling Arrivals" in the folk music category at the Princeton Hospital Fete last year, will join other singers and instrumentalists in the 2:30 program.

CRITICS SAY "YES"

To Chamber Orchestra. Twelve days of music and travel, 10 concerts, 5,424 miles and a standing ovation.

That's the record of the Princeton Chamber Orchestra, which returned from its first tour in time to prepare the "Orefeo ed Euridice" that closed the orchestra's season in Princeton.

"Performances that were models of precision and elegance," said the critic in the Nashville "Banner," referring to the "clear, fluid and authoritative direction" of conductor Nicholas Harsanyi.

"Conductor Harsanyi is a molder and shaper of phrases 'par excellence' and he keeps everything at a high pitch of expressivity," observed the Miami "Herald." (The standing ovation occurred in Miami.)

This reviewer continued, "The Princeton orchestra fairly explodes charming surprises; another was the expert and artistic handling of the solo role in Bach's Concerto in A minor for violin and string orchestra by its concertmistress, Helen Kwalwasser."

"Exciting" All the critics spoke with praise of Janice Harsanyi, who sang Benjamin Britten's song cycle, "Les Illuminations."

"The most exciting work on the program," said the Atlanta "Constitution," commenting that Mrs. Harsanyi, "exhibited a strong, sure, brilliant sound and full command of such essentials as pitch and diction."

"Mrs. Harsanyi left no doubt of her ascendancy over the unusual work," said the Green Bay "Press Gazette." "She has a firm, powerful voice of exceptional range; a clean, soaring quality and easy flexibility. She sang throughout with precise accuracy of pitch, varied tonal color and confident assurance."

Although Miami asked immediately for a return engagement, this was impossible to arrange since the 1967-68 seasons are already heavily booked, with visits scheduled for as far west as Minnesota, South Dakota, Texas and Louisiana.

Officers of the orchestra are thinking about extending the national tour for '67-'68, but the prime concern is the extension of the orchestra's activities in Princeton, said Gordon G. Andrews, manager.

ART In Princeton

FOLK ART OF HAITI

At Gallery 100. Native art from Haiti is being shown at Gallery 100 during May. Though a first glance may seem sufficient to get a total impression of this rather primitive folk art, it would be wise to recall the Haitian background (three excellent commentaries are posted in the gallery), and then look again at the separate pieces of metal work, paintings and sculpture.

Primitive, obvious and often artless, metal cut-outs depict ordinary scenes, events and beliefs of the peasant life, and as such, are easy to read. However, considering the poverty and utter simplicity of their existence, one realizes how much value the peasants derive from such expressions in art, music, dance, Voodooism and folklore. Then one can understand with greater appreciation the stiff, flat figures, animals, birds and flowers which arranged so simply in symbolic poses or "action shots."

Some of the works are humorous, some are sad and a few are plain, honest decoration with stencil effect of interwoven plants and birds done in metal or occasionally painted colorfully on wood. A single wood sculpture called "Holy Family" is shown. In combining the figures in simplest terms, this carving manages to give a poignant expression of endurance and pathos which makes it clearly the most mature exhibit in the group.

Throughout, one feels that the strong personality of the Haitian native is vividly revealed in their art form.

ARTISTS SHOW ON VIEW

At McCarter Theatre. Under the auspices of the Princeton Art Association, a group of the Princeton Art Association, a group of paintings by New Jersey artists is now on view at McCarter Theatre through May 26. As a rough indication of what may be found here, we mention the wonderful texture of Ann Wiseman's tapestry, "Milkweed," humor in Henry Martin's New Yorker cartoon and Mike Ramus' comment on "Home," scale in George Green's "High Wire" and the all-out flamboyancy of Dagmar Tribble's still life.

Single line drawing is well handled in George Ortman's nude figure sketches and it is not surprising that Prestopino's "Harlem Sketch" is one of the most expressive, or that "Aged Tree" by Stefan Martin is a most authorative and striking print. Figure studies, portraits, watercolors and collages etc. vary the fare and make a good showing here, as they did at the Festival of the Arts, of which they were a part.

ITALIAN DRAWINGS

At Princeton Art Museum. An exhibition of rare Italian drawings from the extensive collection of the Princeton Art Museum—the first University collection ever to receive a major showing at The Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City—has returned to its "home campus" for a two-month stay. The exhibition will be open to the public Tuesday through Saturday from 10 to 4 and Sunday from to 2 to 4.

TOUR THE ART MUSEUM!

Volunteers Will Guide. "We have been deluged with calls for tours!" says Mrs. Hedy Backlin-Landman, assistant to the director of the Princeton University Art Museum.

Tour requests have poured in upon the Museum since its new building was open last year, Mrs. Backlin-Landman reports, with senior citizens groups, women's college clubs and schools all eager to examine the collectinns, which range from ancient to modern times and from the art of western civilization to the art of the far east.

To accommodate these groups, the Museum now has a nucleus of 20 volunteer art experts recruited from the University League, Princeton University's organization of faculty and administration wives.

These League volonteers are graduates of an intensive six-weeks course given by J. Patrick Kelleher, director of the Museum, Dr. Frances Follin Jones, chief curator and curator of classical art and Mrs. Backlin-Landman.

The volunteers are now thoroughly grounded in the history of the museum's most important pieces, and have a general understanding of periods, styles and techniques.

Guides will speak extemporaneously as they lead guests through the Museum. "Any set comments become stale after a while," Mrs. Backlin-Landman observes, "We were delighted when League members volunteered their services. Their help will be invaluable."

Appointments for tours may be made by calling the Museum office, 452-3737 or writing to Mrs. Backlin-Landman, The Art Museum, Princeton University.

PRINTS, SCULPTURE

At Queenstown. A pastry cook turned graphic artist and a history teacher who sculpts will display their art forms this Sunday at the Queenstown Shop and Gallery, 43 South Main Street, Pennington.

A reception honoring the two artists will be held at 2 p.m. The reception will also mark the opening of the shop's new downshairs gallery.

Richard Kemble, now studying at Trenton State and teaching in Ringoes, began his career as a pastry cook and food decorator. He won numerous awards in both fields before he turned to the graphic arts.

He uses an intaglia form of printing, in black, brown and white. Art lovers who visited the New Jersey Artist Exhibit at the State Museum will recall that he was a purchase prize-winner at that show.

Julian Thompson teaches history at the Lawrenceville School and is a member of Southern Vermont Artists, Inc. A sculptor, he calls his work "assembleage" because its free-standing metal elements can be fitted together in a variety of forms. Besides the free-standing pieces, there are others consisting of metal pieces attached to boards.

ART FROM HAITI: The folk art of Haiti will be on view at Gallery 100, 100 Nassau, through the month of May.

hundred of concerts. It was his creation -- having been redesigned and reconstructed in recent years under his direction.

One of the world's best-known bellmasters and a long-time member of the Princeton engineering faculty, teaching Engineering Graphics and Spatial Analysis for Structural Geology, Prof. Bigelow was official bellmaster of Louvain, Belgium, for 25 years. He was famous for his work in the design and construction of bells — including the complete reconstruction of the Louvain carrillon which had been destroyed in Wolrd War I by German artillery fire.

The program will feature the finale from "The Passion of Our Lord According to St. Matthew" by Bach; three Flemish folksongs; and works by associates of Prof. Bigelow. The final work will be "Groote Klokken, Kleine Klokken" by Bigelow himself.

ORGANIST TO PERFORM

At Chapel Recital. Herbert Nanney, the organist of Stanford University, will present a recital Sunday at 3:30 in the Princeton University Chapel. Mr. Nanney, who has recently returned from six months of teaching at Stanford-in-Britain and Stanford-in-Germaoy, will open his program with "Prelude and Fugue in E minor" by Bruhn.

Other works to be played in the recital will be Vogler's "Jesus, by His Bitter Cross"; Sweelinck's "Unter der Linden Grueoe"; Bach's "Prelude and Fugue in F minor"; Franck's "Cantabile"; Searle's "Toccata alla Passacaglia"; Buxtehude's "A Mighty Fortress" and "We Pray Now to the Holy Spirit"; and Grigny's "Dialogue in F." The program will conclude with "Suite Medievale" by Langlais.

STRINGS AND VOICE

In Princeton Day Concert. Young singers and instrumentalists in the music department at Princeton Day School will present a free concert this Sunday at 3 in the school auditorium on The Great Road.

The Girls' Choir will open the program with a group of five selections, including a solo by Sue Kleinberg. The Instrumental Ensemble will play the Mozart Serenade Number One, and singers and instrumentalists will join for Philip James' "Chorus of Shepherds and Angels."

The Choir will be accompanied for this composition by a string quartet composed of Joseph Kovacs, violin; Jane Hannauer, violin; Joan Mills, viola and Joan Thompson, cello.

A group of five songs will be sung by Madrigal Sginers, and the afternoon's concert will close with selections from "The King and I" sung by the Upper School Mixed Glee Club.

Leon J. DuBois, director of choral music for the school, and Mr. Kovacs, director of instrumental music, are directing the program.

WE WON!

Six, for $1,800. Six young Princeton High School musicians took away $1,800 of the $3,300 prize money at the Stokes Music Awards contest held last Saturday for high school students in Mercer County.

Timothy Mount won first prize, $500, in the piano category, and Stephen Bryant won the same amount as first prize winner in voice.

Barry Abelson placed third in voice, winning $200. In viola-violin, Lynne Friedman, Lonni Sue Johnson and Danae Meray-Horvath placed second ($300), third ($200) and fourth ($100).

STUDENTS ARE READY

For Spring Concert. Compositions by Mozart, Bach, Stravinsky and Shostakovich will be featured this Sunday at the annual spring concert of the instrumental music department at Princeton High School. The concert will be given at 3 in the auditorium of the school.

The Chamber Orchestra, the full orchestra, the Symphonetta Band and the Concert Band will all perform. Student soloists will be Martha Boughner, senior, who will play the Mozart clarinet concerto, and David Gagne, senior, who will perform in the Teleman bassoon sonata.

Sylvan Friedman and Walter R. Horner are the faculty members in charge.

MEN WILL SING

In Choral Concert. The Princeton Choral Group will sing Monday, May 15, in a concert sponsored by the YMCA Men's Club. Daniel McElwain, president of the club, announced that proceeds from the concert will support the YMCA camp scholarship program.

The scholarship program helps to send some 100 youngsters to different camps each summer.

NOW, WE COME TO THE RENAISSANCE: Members of the University League will be volooteer guides in the University's Art Museum, and these League members have been organizing the new guide service. REGATTA SATURDAY

Tigers Eye Carnegie Cup. Dwight D. Eisenhower had not yet listed his adress as 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue when Princeton last won the Carnegie Cup. It was the spring of 1952, the Tigers edging Yale by a few feet, with favored Cornell coming in third.

There is hope that the Orange and Black may end the 15-year famine in this event when the varsity shells go to the stake boats Saturday at 5 o'clock. Should Princeton defeat both of these well-regarded opponents, it would mark no more than the fourth time since the cup was first placed in competition shortly after World War I that the Tigers have won here on the lake.

Cornell is the pick, off the line race it rowed under unusually rough conditions last week on the Severn River. The Red defeated Navy by better than three lengths, with Syracuse third, and had the power to understroke both its opponents. It will defend the Carnegie Cup Saturday.

Yale, generally strong in rowing, is figured about on a par with the Tigers this season. The Elis have lost to Penn, which also conquered Princeton, and have matched Princeton's victories over Rutgers and Columbia.

The four-race program will begin at 4, with the second freshman, freshman, jayvee and varsity boats racing at 20-minute intervals. The distance is a mile and three-quarters.

Harvard Superb Again. Coming within 4.4 seconds of breaking the course record on the Charles River, Harvard's fine crew defeated Princeton Saturday to retain the Compton Cup. The Crimson won by more than three lengths, covering the mile and three-quarters in 8:37.6.

M.I.T. was third, placing second in the jayvee race, while the Princeton freshmen were runner-up in theirs. Harvard swept the river, by margins ranging from just under two to nearly four lengths.

PENN THE QUESTION

In Tennis and Lacrosse. Midweek contests with Pennsylvania in lacrosse and tennis were major hurdles on the path of Princeton teams eyeing championships. Both were scheduled to take place Wednesday in Philadelphia.

The Tigers moved upward in their respective races last weekend by defeating the Crimson, 11-7, in lacrosse and achieving an unexpected 5-4 triumph over Harvard in tennis, despite the loss of all three doubles matches. Dartmouth's upset of previously undefeated Pennsylvania on the courts figures to create a wild scramble for the championship. Princeton plays at New Haven Saturday.

Wasting no time in taking charge of the lacrosse game Ferris Thomsen's operatives moved out to a 6-1 halftime lead and had a 9-2 margin toward the end of the third quarter against Harvard. The manner in which they handled the Crimson was cause for conservative optimism, since a week earlier the last-place Cantabs had given defending champion Cornell a 10-8 scare at Ithaca.

Captain Marty Eichelberger and sophomore Jim Karanik both scored three goals for the Tigers in the 11-7 triumph. They will face a tough Yale ten Saturday at New Haven.

BALL TEAM BEATEN

Mishaps Costly. Faced with the opportunity to take sole possession of first place in the Eastern League for the first time in more than a decade, Princeton's baseball team fell short of the mark Saturday when it lost, 7-4, to defending champion Army on Clarke Field

START OF TROUBLE: Clean steal of second by Army outfielder Bart McClellan marked the beginning of two-run outburst by cadets in game Saturday. Visitors added four more in third, won, 7 to 4. (George Peterson Photo)

Sports In Princeton

Confronted by stronger cadet pitching than they could handle, the Tigers were out of it to all intents and purposes when they trailed, 6-0, before they came to bat in the third. Eventually, they chased starter Roger Vandenberg with a three-run rally in the seventh but after their early troubles, they never got back into contention.

Sophomore righthander Mike Fremuth was the loser, a victim of his own wildness and his outfield's inability to play position. Four wild pitches were charged to Fremuth in three innings he worked, but a double that was misjudged by Phil DeSantis, playing center field for the first time, and a single that fell in front of new corner Bob Gang in right were expensive contributions.

Earlier in the week, the Tigers overcame cold, rain and last-place Penn, winning easily, 9 to 1, behind Steve Cushmore. They entertain Fordham Wednesday and St. John's Thursday before facing Yale at New Haven Saturday. Rutgers will be here next Tuesday.

Other Sports. The only other home event for Houseparty Weekend, in addition to the Carnegie Cup regatta, is a triangular tract meet in Palmer Stadium among Columbia, Colgate and Princeton.

The 150-lb. crew, winner of the Wood Hammond Cup last week in a race with Penn on the Schuylkill River, will compete for Goldthwait Cup Saturday against Yale and favored Harvard on the Housatonic. The golfers, 4-3 victor over Navy to round out a strong weekend for Princeton teams, will play in the eastern intercollegiates at University Park, Pa.

PDS NINE SPLITS

For 1-2 Record. The Princeton Day School baseball team defeated Bonnie Brae, 16-2, last week for its first victory of the season and then lost to Rutgers Prep Friday, 6-1. Coach Wes McCaughan's squad is now 1-2.

Against Rutgers Prep, PDS could muster only one hit, a single by Craig Page in the first inning. The Blue and White scored its lone run in the seventh on a walk, two stolen bases and a wild pitch. Frank Andrews and John Claghorn shared the mound for the losers.

Earlier, PDS routed Bonnie Brae (near Far Hills) in a contest memorable for superlatives the negative compiled by Bonnie Brae. In a nine-run fourth inning, Bonnie pitchers were guilty of allowing seven walks in sucession and a combination of wild pitches and

Trend Reversed

For the first time in a decade or more, Princeton has won more contests than it lost in varsity competition with Harvard.

The score now stands ten triumphs for the Tigers, seven for the Crimson and the golf match left. A year ago, it was 7-11 for Harvard, while the 1964-65 season saw the Tigers win only five of 19.

The swing toward Princeton began with the 18-14 upset of Harvard's unbeaten football team. Since then, the Orange and Black has won in swimming, hockey, twice in basketball, wrestling, fencing, baseball, tennis and lacrosse. Harvard victories have come in soccer, cross-country, hockey, squash, crew and indoor and outdoor track.

TOGETHERNESS REGAINED: Bill van Breda Kolff, coach of the Princeton basketball team for the past five years, and Bill Bradley, the Tigers' three-time All-American, will both be part of the National Basketball Association next winter. Van Breda Kolff will coach the Los Angeles Lakers, Bradley signed last week with the New York Knicks for a reported $600,000. They are shown here on the occasion of Bradley's last game in Dillon Gym, an 81-71 triumph over Pennsylvania on March 3, 1965.

Sports In Princeton

passed balls totalling 11. Page hit a grand slam in the frame and James Rodgers a two-run homer.

A three-run homer by Claghorn, a two-run triple by Bill Rigot and a run-scoring single by Rich Raines accounted for six runs in the first inning. In all, PDS banged out 10 hits.

Andrews allowed the losers only two hits. Both of their runs were unearned.

BUTCH AND BILL SIGN

Both Will Join Pros. Rarely has any sport at Princeton created as much off-season news as basketball did last week. Within a period of 24 hours, announcement was made in Los Angeles that Butch van Breda Kolff had agreed to coach the Lakers and Bill Bradley reported in New York that he would play for the New York Knicks.

In addition to writing headlines across the nation's sports pages, the twin developments precipitated Princeton into the National Basketball Association to a far greater degree than at any time in the past. Van Breda Kolff, of course, is the first alumnus of the University to coach an NBA team; Bradley joins van Breda Kolff and Bud Palmer as the third player to wear the uniform of the Knicks.

News that the Tigers' coach was leaving had by no means cooled before speculation began as to his successor. Estimates of the number of applicants for the job ran as high as 100, although probably not more than a small fraction of that number will be given thorough consideration.

A leading candidate for the position—because he has been given a firm recommendation by van Breda Kolff—is Pete Carril, currently basketball coach at Lehigh. Carril was Butch's first captain (in 1952) when he was at Lafayette, and the two teach much the same system on offense while stressing defense.

If Carril proves to be the choice, he would step from a college campus where basketball hasn't topped .500 in more than a decade into a pressure cooker heated by Princeton's dominance of the Ivy League and its battle for a berth in the national ratings. A high school coach during most of his career (he coached Gary Walters at Reading, Pa.), Carril has been at Lehigh only for one season.

Another name tossed in the ring is Bill Foster of Rutgers, who steered his last team into the NIT. Foster, however, has felt it more diplomatic not to file formal application, and Princeton is unlikely to seek him out.

Others who have been mentioned include an ex-Ivy League coach, Jack McCloskey, once at Penn and now at Wake Forest; Dick Harter, present coach at Penn; Bob Knight, whose Army quintets frequently wind up in the NIT; Paul Lynner, who has been doing a good job at Hofstra since he took over for van Breda Kolff; and Jack Ramsey, general manager of the champion 76ers in Philadelphia.

A decision on the new coach is expected at any time within the next ten days. His problems in keeping the Tigers near the level where they finished last winter (Ivy champions and a 25-3 record) will be considerable, but where else would he inherit such players as Joe Heiser, Chris Thomforde, John Haarlow, John Hummer and Jeff Petrie, with a 7,000-seat cage ready to open a year after he arrives?

"Worth Every Penny." Reports on the amount for which Bradley signed with the Knicks vary, but run as high as $600,000 over a four-year period. The consensus opinion is that he is worth every bit of it in box office draw and potential ability to carry the Knicks into the NBA's top level. The new Madison Square Garden will open about the time Bill starts to play, after completing a six month hitch in the Air Force Reserve.

In fact, so sure are the Knicks that they have one of the world's top athletes as an attraction that they have signed a contract with him entitling them to a cut of what ever income he realizes from testimonials, radio and TV appearances, newspaper and magazine articles, etc.

Bradley's decision to turn professional came as something of a surprise to those who had been close to him while he was at Princeton. Belief was that he had little or no intention of doing so when he left to begin his study as a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford.

He said at the press conference called in New York to announce his plans that the game of basketball had a greater hold on him than he had realized. Whatever else, his decision will have thousands of Princetonians who never cared a whit before about the New York Knicks living and dying with them for some years to come.

OPERATION SALVAGE

Task of PHS Nine. In winning two of its first eight, the Princeton High School baseball team has gotten off to a dismal start this season.

When the team meets Lawrence Friday afternoon, it will have had a nine-day rest. If coach Harry Zoll's operatives hope to salvage something of the current season before it slips out of their fingers altogether, they must win a lion's share of their remaining 11 games.

Following the 4 p.m. contest here Friday with Lawrence, the Little Tigers will be at Steinert on Monday. Tuesday they will travel to Lawrence for a return contest with the Cardinals.

Should the Blue and White follows its form of the past two seasons, it will right itself during May. Despite its poor start this spring, PHS was 1-6 before it won its second game last year, and was 1-7 before winning its second two years ago.

Last year, it ended almost even with a 9-10-1 log. It finished with a flourish, defeating Trenton, Group 4 champion and Hunterdon Central, Group 3 title-holder, in back-to-back victories.

Last year, the problem was weak hitting. This spring, it is poor fielding. The Blue and White has performed shabbily on the diamond, averaging five errors a game. That and a pitching staff that has yet to live up to what was expected of it.

Cathedral Wins, 6-4. Cathedral defeated PHS last Wednesday, 6-4, in a game called after five innings because of rain. In fact, weather conditions were so poor it is questionable if the game should have been played at all.

The visiting Little Tigers scored all of their runs in the third inning when they batted around. Jay Springer opened the uprising with a single. An error, a fielder's choice and a single by Thom Yoder filled the bases.

Then a walk to Bob Salek forced home the first run. Later a two-base error scored Salek and Rich Volz who was safe on a fielder's choice.

Tom Butterfoss went the distance for the losers, allowing seven hits. He walked six and struck out six. Tom's record is now 1-1. He also got the third of Princeton's three hits.

STICKMEN LOSE AGAIN

Halfway Mark Reached. Princeton High School lacrosse coach Bob Arbegast is hoping that the second half of his team's 14 game schedule it not a copy of the first seven. Following lopsided defeats by Lawrenceville and Montclair last week, the Little Tigers are still looking for that first win.

The team will next face Hun Wednesday afternoon at 4 on the latter's field. Hawley Waterman's Hun squad is 5-1-1, so far this spring, so a PHS victory would represent a major upset.

Friday, the home team Red and Black of Lawrenceville scored three more goals than the Little Tigers have all season in trouncing them, 16-1. Co-captain John Steiger scored Princeton's only goal. Two days earlier, Montclair held PHS scoreless for the first time, winning 8-0.

In both contests, Princeton's leading scorer, Paul Rice, was sidelined because of illness. And in the Larry contest, Arbegast was forced to play without two of his starting defensemen, Rick Sisco and Karl Stange. "This sort of hurt us," said Arbegast.

It is obvious that the loss through graduation of the remaining original members of the lacrosse club formed three years ago has hurt and to recapture that lost experience will take more than one season. Said Arbegast, "Overall, our newer people with no experience at all are getting better. Their stick ability is improving which is really the most important part of the game — learning to control the ball in the stick.

"It's just a matter of time. Right now, it's rough."

PEDDIE TOPS HUN

In Lacrosse. Peddie defeated visiting Hun School, 8-2, in lacrosse Saturday, handing the Red and Black its first loss in six starts. Hun has tied one.

"Peddie led in all statistics of the game," said Hun coach Hawley Waterman. Tom Petty scored both Hun goals.

Last week, Hun defeated a Stevens Freshmen squad, 10-2. Petty led the attack again with three goals, while Dave Liederman added a pair. Single tallies were scored by Chip Hosford, Dave Shenker, who also had two assists; Holt Murray, Mark Levine and Roy Rumhle. Hun goalie Gene Rubin was credited with 18 saves.

BOLSTER WINS MEDAL

With Breaststroke First. Andy Bolster, swimming Saturday in the Ft. Monmouth Club's meet for boys, won a gold medal in the 50-yard breaststroke. Bolster swam the distance two seconds faster than his nearest competitor in the 10-and-under category.

Placing third in the same meet was Winston White, president of the freshman class at Princeton High School. White swam the 100-yard freestyle in the 13 and 14-year old age group in 57.2 seconds.

Princeton University sophomore Brian Kenny took third in the Senior Men's 100-yard backstroke championship. Winning third place honors in the 50-yard breaststroke for boys 10 and under was Billy Cook.

Jill Agadganian in the 13/14 age group and Colleen Hector in the 15/17 age group captured second places at the annual Tri-State AAU Diving meet. Present at the meet were top divers from Pennsylvania and metropolitan New York.

HORSE SHOW PLANNED

For Saturday, May 13. St. Mary's Hall - Doane Academy will hold its 11th annual Horse Show and Fair on Saturday, May 13. The show will take place, rain or shine, at the 112th Artillery Grounds on Eggerts Crossing Road, near Lawrenceville.

Some 20 events, including pair, family, children's jumper, hunter and stake classes, will be run starting at 9:30. The affair, under the supervision of Mrs. Edward Yard of Trenton, will benefit the scholarship fund.

NEW JERSEY BELL

Funny, you don't look like a 4-cycle, 1498cc, 73hp, overhead valve V-4.

Bet you still think SAAB has only one kind of engine. Our famous 2-cycle, 3-cylinder "Shrike" engine. Well don't bet on it. Because SAAB now has a new V-4 engine, too. Zero to 50 in 10 seconds. Top speeds of over 90 mph. More power for acceleration. For hills. For safer passing. (And V-4 SAABs have front wheel disc brakes, for stopping all that power.) Funny thing, but it looks like this new high-performance V-4 should make the rally-winningest car in the world an even bigger winner. (That's something you can bet on.) SAAB

WIN STREAK BROKEN

As Tennis Team Bows Twice. Princeton High School's four-match winning streak was halted first on Friday and again on Monday as coach Bill Humes' netmen lost to Bridgewater-Raritan and Christian Brothers.

The outcome of Monday's battle here with always-strong Christian Brothers was settled in a hurry when the first three ranked singles players for PHS — Henry Sommers, Ted Fritsch and Mike Jameson—all lost in straight sets.

The doubles team of Scott Raaum and John Panzer won for the Blue and White, while in the final match Ted Ford and Bill Carroll split their doubles match, each side winning one set. Final score, Christian Brothers 3½, PHS 1½.

Bridgewater topped PHS, 3-2. Victorious for PHS were Fritsch, and Carroll and Ford in the doubles. Mike McConnell and Bill Liederman lost their doubles match, as did Sommers and Jameson in the singles.

Friday, the Blue and White will be at Trenton and on Monday at Peddie. A contest with Cathedral last week was rained out and is in the process of being rescheduled.

BOWLING NOTES

Lawrenceville Wins Rolloff. In a rolloff for the championship of the Tri-County Firemens League, Lawrenceville, first-half winner, defeated Mercer No. 3. A 610 series—highest game a 231—by Bob Richardson helped push Lawrenceville to its victory.

Despite an even 600 series by Princeton No. 1's Jack Petrone, Plainsboro defeated No. 1 to earn third place in the final standings. Petrone's games were 232-204-164.

No one team seems to be able to overhaul Tiger Garage in the Nassau League—it has a 70-64 margin over Princeton Aviation. Cifelli Electric, the only other contender, has 62.

High scorer was Rudy Schutz with a 221. Al Kren and Ed Duncan Sr. each had 213s and Flavio Buono rolled 212-203.

In the Three-Man Classic League, which is about to wrap up its season, Colonial Restaurant has a firm grip on the top rung, leading Procaccini Contractors, 66-60½. No one else has a chance of catching the leaders.

Mike Basile opened with a fine 246 but dropped below 200 in his next two for a 612 series. Dick Wyckoff had a 211-167-224—602. High doubles were Bill Dumble's 223-204 and Guido Zinetti's 203-220. High singles: a 255 by Bill Covell and a 235 by Bill Penelli.

A lot of wood was knocked down in the B League, led by Fred Procaccino who had 188-238-221 for a 647. Tremendous second games helped Tony Tamasi (244) reach 625 and Mike Pinelli (252) hit 608.

Ed Hoffman, Fred Lehnert, Ed Duncan, Pete Fiumenero and Bob Cifelli were bunched between 226 and 222. Rick Pinelli had 214 and Bill Whatley and Ed Bucci both 210.

Balestrieri cut Nassau Del's lead to two points, 72-70. It was four a week ago. Princetown Del has 60.

Taps won all its games in the YMCA Blue Angels League to break a tie with Exports, which it now leads, 26-20. King Pins is tied for second, with Exports and Hi-Lo's is in third, two points back.

Ken Grob led all scorers with 181. Following were Jim Silvester, 180; Mike Skillman, 178; Tom Wood, 172; and Craig Donaldson, 167.

Dail Forsyth was high in the Business Women's League with a 212. Mella Cruser had 198. Others: Helen Tamsi, 187; Sarah Hunneycutt, 179; Diane Fowler, 177-171; Edie Carlucci, 174; and Julia Ball, 170.

University Cleaners widened its seven-point lead to nine, 64-56, over Balestrieri and MacKenzie tied for second with 56. Bucci Builders has 53.

TINDALL HITS 233-11

For New Javelin Record. They said he was waiting for a warm day. Monday afternoon the sun made one of its infrequent appearances this spring and the wind was just right—a slight nose breeze. And Dan Tindall responded just as everyone on the Princeton High School track team said he would when conditions were right.

Tindall, who had been within a few feet on several occasions of the javelin record of 211-8 5/8 set ten years by Nick Kovalikides, topped Nick on his second throw in Monday's meet with visiting New Brunswick. He hettered Nick's 1957 mark not by inches or a few feet but by more than 20! An then to prove it was no fluke, he hurled the javelin twice more that afternoon over 215 feet.

"At first, I thought it was going to be a bad throw," said PHS coach Gerald Groninger. "But it started to take off and kept right on going." "That's going to stand for some time," said assistant coach Larry Ivan.

Tindall's mark has been exceeded only once in the state. That took place less than a year ago in June when Livingston's Roger Collins won the championship in the state meet held in June at Rutgers Stadium with a toss of 237-11. Given the right conditions again, Groninger said that he believed Tindall could exceed that.

MICHAEL WINS DUEL: Princeton High's Pete Michael (dark shirt) a step behind Roosevelt Greene of New Brunswick at the three-quarter mark, turned it on in the final lap to win the mile in 4:39.3.

After his heroics with the javelin, Tindall proceeded to win the shot with a toss of 49-0 — one disqualified effort measured 49-5 — and the discus with a throw of 137-6. (The school record in the discuss is 153-2 set by Kovalikides in 1957 and 54-4 in the shot, set last year by Carl DeCavalcante.) In all, the Southern Illinois-bound Tindall earned 15 of Princeton's 55 points. New Brunswick, however, took every race but the mile to win the meet, 71-55.

In the mile, Princeton's ace Pete Michael battled the Zebra's Roosevelt Greene step for step for three laps. Then on the gun lap Pete pulled steadily ahead to win easily with a clocking of 4:39.3. The only other first captured by PHS was achieved by Nelson Warner in the pole vault.

Second-place finishes were scored by Keith Lawder, two-mile; Keith Conover, javelin; Charles Madden, shot put; Dave Moomaw, 220; Paul Mazzarella, low hurdles; Alan Moring, broad jump; and Bob Upchurch and Ron McEwen, tie, high jump.

Meet Postponed. Tuesday's scheduled dual meet with Notre Dame was postponed until Thursday at the request of the Irish.

Pennington will be here Friday afternoon and on Wednesday PHS will participate in the annual Mercer County meet.

Second in Penn Relays. Competing against 11 other schools in its heat, PHS finished second to Orange High School in the Penn Relays Saturday in Philadelphia. The Blue and White's time of 3:28.6 was the school's fastest since 1950, according to Groninger. Orange's time was 3:27.3. The record set in 1935 is 3:27.3. The record set in 1935 is 3:26.3.

SETS JAVELIN RECORD: Dan Tindall hettered a 10-year-old PHS record for the javello Monday when he horled the spenr 233 feet, 11 inches. It was the second best high school performance ever in New Jersey.

Running for PHS were Dave Moomaw, Julian Solotorovsky, John Westefeld and George Fifield, anchor. Groninger said that Solotorovsky ran about .51, "which is terrific for a sophomore."

REED TO RETIRE

Volz Named Soccessar. James J. Reed, varsity soccer coach at Princeton for 30 years, will resign the position, effective June 30. He will be replaced by R. Jack Volz, freshman soccer coach since World War II.

Reed's actual retirement from the University coaching staff, on which he is the senior member from point of view of service, will not take place until June '69. He has asked to be relieved of his soccer responsibilities to devote full time to administration of the intramural athletic program, which he has directed since 1937.

Reed came here in 1929 after an outstanding career in soccer and wrestling at Lehigh. He lost only two bouts in four years, winning eastern inter collegiate titles in 1926 and 1927 and earning a national championship in AAU competition three years later.

At Princeton, he began as assistant coach of wrestling and doring the decade of the '30's was named head coach in both wrestling and soccer. From 1940 to 1947, he was Director of Physical Education.

His wrestling teams won 14 Big Three championships and tied for the eastern title with Yale in 1940. In soccer, during his regime, Princeton won the Middle Atlantic Championship seven times, the Big Three four times and the Ivy title twice.

Volz, a 1936 graduate of Trenton State Teachers, has been on the staff here since 1945, serving as an assistant in baseball and as coach of freshman soccer and wrestling. A rative of Trenton, he works high school soccer and basketball games in an officiating capacity.

REEDER, GIBSON WIN

Sailing Races. Carnegie Sailing Club victors in Sunday's racing on the lake were John Reeder in the Penquin Class and Walt Gibson in the 14-foot Sloops.

Reeder and his crew, Beth Rimalover, won three firsts for 24.7 points. Dexter Miller had 22.1 and Ed Metcalf, 17.6.

Gibson with his wife, Jan, as crew, captured two firsts for 24.7 points. Second with 18.4 was Jerry Lason. Paul Mory had 16.8.

TENNIS WEEK PLANNED

For Youths 10 to 18. A Junior Tennis Week from June 5 through June 16 will be sponsored by the Princeton Jaycees.

Singles tournaments will be held weekdays at the Community Park Courts starting at 3:30 and are open to all boys and girls from 10 to 18. There will be no entrance fee. Winners will be presented with awards.

Application forms and further information may be obtained from the Varsity Sport Shop, 124 Nassau Street, or from the Princeton Jaycee Tennis Committee, P. O. Box 324. Committee members are Byron Clynes, Jaan Raamot and Frank Mayer. Mayer is physical education instructor at the Riverside School.

HUN TAKES LEAD

In Penn-Jersey League. A 2-1 victory over Perkiomen Saturday and a 12-9 decision over George School earlier earned for the Hun School a 4-1 record in Penn-Jersey League — and the front-runner position. Overall, it is 4-3.

Hun will oppose Germantown Friends on Friday and George School again next Wednesday. Both are league encounters.

Hun coach Sandy Bing called the Perkiomen contest "A really good ball game." It marked the first time that Hun has pulled its erratic fielding together. It was charged with just one error and that, ironically, came on a perfect throw from catcher Mike Simko to second base but the ball hit the runner in the leg.

Dick Mate started on the mound for Hun and was relieved by Ken Kelly who got the win. Kelly is now 2-1. Tommy Hewel of Lawrenceville drove in one run with a single and Mate singled home the second and winning marker.

The game with George School was called after six innings because of rain.

Hun broke it open with a nine-run outburst in the fourth inning. Kelly had two home runs and five RBIs. Hiroshi Ueda, Hun pitcher, went all

"We've been coming along," said Bing. He reported that he was especially pleased by the shoring up of the defense.

"There's no question about our ability to score runs, but we have needed some corrections on defense. I've been stressing fundamentals and the boys have responded very well."

POOL'S WRIST SLAPPED

Must Re-Do Floors. On a pre-opening tour of the new Princeton Community Swimming Pool complex, Mrs. Marcella Farley, Township Health officer, found a few rough spots.

Specifically, she discovered that the concrete floor in the restrooms was so rough that thorough, disinfecting cleaning would be almost impossible. Besides, the floors slope toward the back of the toilets, making a hosing-down operation difficult.

She and Donald Barr, Recreation Director, discussed the question, and the contractor is now installing a new, smooth floor and changing its pitch.

The same condition maintains in the shower-rooms, Mrs. Farley told the Township Board of Health, but the Township has no legal power here because there is no municipal code for public swimming pools. Such a code is scheduled for discussion at the May board of Health meeting on May 25.

STUDENT FINED $50

In Liquor Violation. Nicholas Adamson, 22, 322 Henry Hall, Princeton University, was fined $40 and $10 court costs Monday by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. for purchasing a six-pack of beer for a minor. He pleaded guilty.

John E. Clawley, 17, 10 Westcott Road, paid $40 for speeding. Fined $15 each were Robert J. Cenerino, 19, Rocky Hill-Blawenburg Road, obstructing passage, and Charles S. Ventres, 24, the Graduate School, unregistered vehicle.

Mrs. Struve, currently residing in Arizona, was secretary of the chapter for 43 years without missing a meeting. She will receive her 50-year pin.

IT'S GOOD NEWS

For RCA Stockholders. The more than 2,000 shareholders who attended the anual meeting of the Radio Corporation of America in the Grand Ballroom of New York's Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Tuesday got good news from president Elmer Engstrom of Princeton.

"RCA has concluded the first four months of the year with better sales and profits than in any comparable period during its history," he said. "I can report that our progress continues uninterrupted."

Dr. Engstrom revealed that capitol expenditures by RCA this year will approximate those of 1966. Calling the present "softness" in the economy only a temporary pause, he foresaw new economic expansion. "We are confident that the economy will resume its upward course and we expect electronics to make a unique contrihution to this advance."

STAFF MEMBERS NAMED

By Greyrad. Harold E. Buckert, 26 Herrontown Road, has been appointed general manager by Greyrad Corporation while Richard E. Thompson was named research manager. Mr. Buckert is the former head of the Technical and Administrative Support Division of Princeton University's Guggenheim Laboratories.

Mr. Thompson, Wynnbrook West Apartments, Dutch Neck Road, Hightstown, was associated with a research firm in California. A former NASA Fellow, he was graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

POOL SALES SOAR

At Sylvan Pools. Sylvan Pools has sold almost twice as many pools during the first quarter this year as during the same quarter last year, Sylvan's president, Herman Silverman, said that 350 had been sold through March 31.

During the first week of April, an additional 100 pools were sold, making it the biggest sales week in the firm's 20-year history. Looking at these sales, Mr. Silverman estimated that Sylvan may raise its production to 1800 pools this year as compared to last year's total of 1,000. Sylvan has an office in the Princeton Shopping Center.

News Of The CHURCHES

VIET NAM DISCUSSED

At Witherspoon Church. The congregatioo of inter-racial Witherspoon Street Church departed from tradition on Sunday by devoting the 11 a.m. worship service to the question of Christian ethics and the Viet Nam War.

"What we are engaged in here is just the first step," said the Rev. Harold Thomas, pastor, "to focus our understanding in such a way that perhaps our government may know about it."

The small, beautiful church, one of the oldest in Princeton was filled to near-capacity with about an equal number of Negroes and whites. Many of the visitors seemed drawn by the topic to be discussed. The high, sweet voices of the Church Choir opened the service, joined later by the congregation in the full-throated singing of "Give To Us Peace In Our Time, O Lord," the refrain to the hymn "God the Omnipotent."

Ethical Question. The Rev. Dr. Charles C. West, professor of Christian ethics at Princeton Seminary, who noted that the Bible "is not a pacifist book," posed three questions to be considered by the congregation in group discussion:

1.) The question of people. From Psalm 147, verses 1-6, he paraphrased, "The Lord builds up Viet Nam (Jerusalem); He gathers the outcasts of her villages and jungles. He heals the brokenhearted, and binds up their wounds. — The Lord lifts up the downtrodden, He casts the wicked to the ground."

"We are involved with the people of Viet Nam," Dr. West said, "because before God we have a responsibility for our neighbors. What are we doing to and for these people? How is it related to what God is doing?"

2.) The question of power. From Psalm 147, verses 7-15, he read in paraphrase, "His delight is not in the strength of the miliary, nor His pleasure in the art of jungle warfare; but the Lord takes pleasure in those who fear Him, in those who hope in His steadfast love. — He makes peace in your borders; He fills you with the finest of rice."

Noting that the United States has spent $20 billion so far in Viet Nam, Dr. West asked, "What is the best use of $20 billion in this world? The United States is the most powerful and wealthiest nation on earth, and we are concentrating a heavy proportion of this power and wealth on Viet Nam. Are we using this power in the right way? Is it bringing good results. What should be the relation of our power to God's power?"

3.) The question of peace. From Ephesians 2, verse 14. Dr. West read, "For Christ is our peace, who has made us both one, and has broken down the dividing wall of hostility."

"What is our relation as Christians," he asked, "to the enemies of our country, for instance the Chinese and the North Vietnamese? How can Christians help to bring about peace?"

Discussion. The congregation divided into small groups settling in the balcony, the meeting room and in corners of the church, each with a discussion leader appointed by the Rev. Mr. Thomas.

The magnitude of the Viet Nam involvement versus Christian ethics seemed an awesome topic to some, one group groping in near silence for a starting point. "Are they Christians in Viet Nam?" one person asked. "It seems immaterial," came an answer.

"I do think we are fighting for Christianity . . . our soldiers are dying for Christianity," a Negro man said. He added that Communism "is going to come closer to the United States and we will have a heathen world . . . We are doing more harm by going against the government."

"Isn't this a white nation fighting against an Asian nation?" asked another. "I don't think we are fighting by color," was a reply.

"I don't believe that there is such a thing as a Christian war — a 'holy' war," a woman said. Another added, "I think our government should stop making unconditional surrender the terms for peace." The moderator and others rejoined. "This isn't what the United States is saying at all."

"As a congregation," a man added, "I think there should be something we could do about Viet Nam."

Another group summarized its discussion: "1) the need for education of ourselves, and 2) to present our point of view to our political leaders."

As the discussions began to grow lively, the hour came to a close. After a final hymn "Let There Be Light," the pastor announced that the issue would be considered further. A fellowship dinner followed, sponsored by the Christian Education Committee.

RICE MEAL PLANNED

At Witherspoon School. The Mercer County Committee of Clergy and Laymen Concerned over Viet Nam will join with the Fellowship of Reconciliation in sponsoring a "Rice and Tea Supper" at 7 p.m. this Tuesday in the cafeteria of the John Witherspoon School, Walnut Lane. The public is invited.

Barbara Deming, one of four American women who interviewed Ho Chi Minh in December, will be the speaker. An activist in the civil rights movement, her book, "Prison Notes" is an outgrowth of her imprisonments in the south.

Participating clergy include the Rev. Luther Kriefall of the Lutheran Church of the Messiah and the Rev. Harold Thomas of Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church. Miss Leslie Lockard is co-ordinator of the committee of high school girls who will serve the meal. Mrs. Lucy Hackney of Faculty Road is serving as publicist.

A free-will offering will be asked, although no tickets will be sold for the supper. Funds raised will be sent to the Committee of Responsibility (COR) for use in civilian relief in Viet Nam and to bring war-injured children to this country for restorative surgery.

The Princeton Committee of Clergy and Laymen was formed in February when clergy, lay leaders and Seminary students returned from a three-day protest in Washington, called to focus concern over the moral issues of the Viet Nam war. The group has sponsored a Viet Nam forum at Hopewell Valley High School, held a tea and rice luncheon in Trenton, and circulated and published a petition signed by a number of the Princeton ministers seeking an immediate end to bombing.

The COR is an American voluntary organization established by some 200 physicians, clergymen and scientists. Among them are Dr. Albert B. Sabin, President John Bennett of Union Seminary, New York; the Rev. Harvey Cox Jr. of Harvard Divinity School and Dr. Helen B Taussig, Johns Hopkins' professor emeritus of pediatrics.

SPEAKERS: The Rev. Dr. Elmer G. Homrighausen (left) and the Rev. Dr. Walter D. Wagoner will address the annual meeting of the Friends of Princeton Seminary next Thursday. Joining them at the rostrum will be the Rev. Henry Beck, pastor of Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church.

YM-YWCA FUND DRIVE: Ralph S. Mason (center) receives a $10,000 check from Arthur N. Curtiss, administration director for RCA Laboratories, as the first annual installment of a $50,000 pledge made by RCA on behalf of its three major divisions in the Princeton community. Looking on are (from left) Dr. George H. Brown, executive vice-president, RCA Research and Engineering; A. C. Reeves Hicks, YMCA president, and (at right) Dr. James Hillier, vice-president of RCA Laboratories.

RCA PLEDGES $50,000 To YM-YWCA Campaign.

Radio Corporation of America made a $10,000 first payment Friday on its $50,000 pledge to the Princeton YMCA-YWCA Building fund.

Dr. George H. Brown, executive vice-president of RCA Research and Engineering, joined with Dr. James Hillier, RCA Laboratories vice-president, in presenting the check to campaign chairman Ralph S. Mason and Arthur N. Curtiss, executive vice-chairman of the fund's research and development division of the building fund. Mr. Curtiss is director of administration, RCA Laboratories.

Dr. Brown explained that the remaining $40,000 will be given to the YMCA-YWCA building fund over the next five years in the name of the three RCA operating divisions in the Princeton community — the David Sarnoff Research Center, the Astro-Electronics Division and the Graphic Systems Division.

YM and YW trustees are seeking $1,300,000 to provide a gymnasium and additional facilities. According to Mr. Mason, YM-YWCA membership has increased 170% since the organization moved into the Avalon Place building in September 1958. The expansion program, he said, will eliminate the use of rented facilities. Both the main building and the first floor and basement of adjacent Dorothea House are used to capacity, and many programs are held in gymnasiums around town and on various playgrounds in the area because of lack of space at the Y, Mr. Mason said.

AN AIR OF TRANQUILITY: pervades this artistic one story house, from the lovely panorama of lawn and trees beyond the living room's wall of glass, to the restful seclusion of the master suite (bedroom, bath and book-lined study off in a wing by themselves). Although right in the heart of the Western Section, just a brisk walk from Palmer Square, it has the sunny charm of a garden pavilion far from the beaten path. The living room, besides its leafy vista, is distinguished by the free-standing fireplace which separates it from the dining room as well as its proximity to a cozy screened porch. The kitchen, which is attractive and properly equipped, opens directly to an informal sitting room with doors to a pebbled court. Two more bedrooms and another full bath make the house perfect for a small family or a couple. $48,000

TWO FOR THE BUZZ SAW: which ever of these two two acre building sites you may choose, by the time you've cleared a spot for your dream house, you'll have a lifetime supply of firewood; there are that many trees. On a picturesque hillside in the northwest Township with public sewer and water available, each can be had for $17,500 plus sewer assessment. We think these are the best lot buys in Princeton.

IN MAY, A CLICHE COMING TRUE: Its mellow cedar shakes aglow with the patina of ages, this quaint little farmhouse, has sacrificed none of its 18th Century charm to the updating of its baths and kitchen. Spacious entrance room with fascinating miniature staircase, delightful living room with corner fireplace, dining room with the same unopened. Off the kitchen, a many windowed breakfast room is bathed in sunlight. Laundry-utility and powder room. Upstairs, two cozy bedrooms have exposed ceiling beams and share a new tiled bath. Another bedroom and bath. On an acre, remarkably close to town on the edge of the Western Section, we can offer it at a price of $35,500

A SWIMMING POOL AS BIG AS THE RITZ: begins to look awfully inviting in the wonderfully private, fenced garden of this versitile Western Borough house. Come, take a look. From the parking court banked with evergreens, you'll enter a carpeted foyer opening to the dining room and to a bright rear living room with fireplace and door to a screened porch. Kitchen with breakfast area also opens on porch. Down a few steps from the front hall there's a big panelled den with adjoining greenhouse providing access to the pool. Bar and full bath. Upstairs, master suite with dressing room and bath. Small bedroom and bath and on an upper level, another large bedroom and bath. Separate one room and bath guest or servant apartment. One of a kind in today's market. $73,000

The GREATEST . . . BEST . . . FASTEST . . . How many times have you seen and heard these words in ads selling service . . . we admit, we've used them ourselves. But we have found that you can't sell a service with superlatives! We simply say that we think our TV Repair Service is merely better than adequate . . . it's only GOOD.

We have trained, competent technicians with years of experience in their profession to back that statement.

And most of all, we have many satisfied customers . . . which is, after all, our ultimate goal!

Do us a service . . . call 921-8500 today so that we may serve you!
